Utility Seizure Measure Near Showdown Vote

Indications Pointing To Defeat of Proposal Advanced by Lausche

COLUMBUS (AP)—The House Judiciary Committee today recommended defeat of Gov. Frank J. Lausche's utility seizure bill at a special session of the Ohio Legislature.

All 21 of the members present approved the report to the House after a closed meeting with House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan) in his office.

The committee's report went to the House for consideration. A showdown vote is expected this afternoon.

Lawmakers reported mounting opposition to enactment of the proposal at the special legislative session. The Cincinnati Enquirer reported that "the tenor is that law enforcement is needed rather than new state legislation."

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), Senate majority leader, said that so far as he is concerned the Senate will go home tonight without action on more than a dozen appointments by the governor "or anything else."

Lausche asked the special session for power to seize and operate struck utility firms in an effort to end a Scioto County telephone blackout without calling out the Ohio National Guard.

Portsmouth and other towns in the area have been without telephone service since Oct. 15 when Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. closed its exchanges there.

A STRIKE by the Communications Workers of America against the company began last July 15 in 24 Ohio counties.

William Sibert, representative of a Virginia agency like Ohio's public utilities commission, testified Tuesday before a House Judiciary Committee hearing. He said the proposed Ohio law should operate as well as a similar Virginia statute used in strikes against utilities there.

Ohio CIO and AFL officials challenged constitutionality of the proposed Ohio law. They said collective bargaining was the only solution to the strike, deadlocked over union shop and other issues.

John R. Rooney, CIO secretary-treasurer of the Ohio CIO Council, said: "If the governor jumps into a strike, collective bargaining will be undermined."

Rooney quoted remarks to Congress by the late Sen. Robert A. Taft against seizure powers during strikes.

Taft's son, Rep. Robert A. Taft Jr., a Judiciary Committee member, asked Rooney if the CIO had taken "any further steps against violence" in the protracted Ohio strike.

Rooney said violence against unionism is against violence. He added that "the general attitude in the Portsmouth area is favorable to the union."

Howard Metzgerbaum, former state legislator and counsel for the Ohio State Federation of Labor, said "this bill probably has more constitutional violations in it than

New Phone Firm Hearing Booked

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio today set Monday, Dec. 17, for a hearing on an order for emergency telephone service in Scioto County.

The date was set a few hours after the Ohio Supreme Court cleared the way for the hearing. The court granted a request to modify a temporary writ of prohibition obtained by Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. to block a communication hearing originally scheduled for Nov. 7.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Ralph N. Mahaffey said modification of the writ would permit the commission to give the company at least 15 days' notice of the hearing. The court granted the writ because the commission gave the company only five days' notice.

Ohio Consolidated would be required at a hearing to show why it should not be ordered to provide emergency service in the Portsmouth area.

The company closed exchanges in the area following rock-throwing and cable-cutting incidents during a strike by Communication Workers of America that began July 15 in 24 counties.

What You Do Not Know Can Be Asset

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—What you don't know won't hurt you, the axiom goes. Sometimes it helps.

A man sat down at the counter in Mrs. John Cannelles' candy store here and asked for pencil and paper. He wrote a note to Mrs. Cannelles, but she laughingly handed it back to him, saying:

"I can't read English."

In utter disgust, the man threw the note on the floor and left. Mrs. Cannelles, who was born in Springfield but educated in Greece from infancy, handed the note to a customer. The message:

"This is a holdup."

Logan Man Killed In Fall from Bridge

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Phillip Parry, 58, of Logan, Ohio, died in Booth Hospital Tuesday night from injuries received earlier in the day when he fell from a scaffold while painting the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad bridge.

Police Say Tommy Dorsey Death Case Not Yet Closed

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP)—Greenwich police haven't closed their investigation into the death of band leader Tommy Dorsey, and Police Chief David W. Robbins says a note the famed trombonist left his wife "is important."

The state's attorney from Chief Robbins came even from the medical examiner, Dr. C. Stanley Knapp, signed a death certificate which listed the death as accidental.

The note Robbins referred to was not one given out by Dorsey's personal manager, Tino Barzic, shortly after the body was found in the Dorsey home here Monday.

Robbins said the note Barzic released never was written by Dorsey. The chief added:

"Barzic told me he didn't find any note in Dorsey's bedroom. Barzic said it was addressed to Mrs. Dorsey."

The purported note read by Barzic was affectionate in tone, Barzic said it was addressed to Mrs. Dorsey.

Chief Robbins refused to disclose what Dorsey's actual note to his wife said.

British Tories Grumbling About U. S. Mid-East Policy

LONDON (AP)—Anti-American feeling soared to new heights today in Britain. Cartoonists lampooned President Eisenhower mercilessly. A denunciation of U. S. policy introduced by more than 100 Conservatives was before Parliament.

Other voices, however, called for renewed efforts to heal the breach with the United States caused by the British-French dilemma in Egypt.

In Parliament, the opposing views were spelled out in motions of the minority Labor and Liberal parties urging reconciliation with Washington and by an influential section of the ruling Conservative party attacking the U. N. Assembly and blaming U. S. Middle East policy for "endangering the Atlantic alliance."

The Conservative motion was signed by nearly one-third of the Eden government's backers in Commons. Seldom in history has so large a segment of the Tory party undertaken an attack in this fashion on an allied nation. It said:

"THIS HOUSE congratulates the foreign secretary (Selwyn Lloyd) on his efforts to secure international control of the Suez Canal, and deplores both the resolution of the U. N. General Assembly calling for immediate and unconditional withdrawal of British and French troops from Egypt and the attitude of the U. S. A., which is gravely endangering the Atlantic alliance."

Four separate U. N. resolutions have called on Britain, France and Israel to pull their troops out of Egypt. The United States supported them. The endorsement of the resolution by nearly a third of the Conservative membership of the House promised grave trouble for the government if it began a complete withdrawal.

If the Conservatives hold ranks, they could easily adopt the motion. But the party itself has been split by dissension over the British-French intervention in Egypt, although they closed ranks behind Prime Minister Eden Nov. 23 when he left for Jamaica suffering from "overstrain."

Opposition motions urging the Conservative government to try to restore the close understanding of previous years with the United States were filed by a group of Laborites and also by the tiny, middle-of-the-road Liberal party.

In France, too, public opinion mounted against the United States as a result of the Suez crisis. The United States was blamed for not moving faster to supply Europe with petroleum to replace the cut-off Middle East supplies.

But French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said: "Despite our bitterness, we cannot renounce American friendship nor the Atlantic Alliance."

Mrs. Dorsey, the former Janie New, is the band leader's third wife. She was suing for divorce and a hearing on her motion for temporary alimony and support for their two small children was to have been held today in Superior Court at Bridgeport.

Robbins said that the note the police now possess left no indication Dorsey intended to take his life.

Dr. Knapp said after an autopsy that Dorsey, the bespectacled member of the band-leading Dorsey Bros., choked to death in his sleep on food particles which lodged in his throat after he apparently became ill.

Vital organs taken from the body were sent to the State Health Department in Hartford for an examination by toxicologists.

Dorsey went to bed about 9 p.m. Sunday after eating a heavy Italian meal with his wife and her mother at the Dorsey home.

The autopsy report held no evidence that he had consumed intoxicating liquor, aside from two glasses of wine.

Dr. Knapp said Dorsey died at 2 a.m. Monday.

Malenkov Said Now Adviser To Puppet Chief in Hungary

BUDAPEST (AP)—Former Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov was reliably reported today to be in Budapest to bolster the government of Russian-installed Premier Janos Kadar.

An excellent source, who asked not to be quoted by name, said Malenkov, now a deputy Soviet premier, arrived in the Hungarian capital Nov. 23.

This source said it was Malenkov who advised Kadar to change his lenient attitude and resort to harsh measures against still striking Hungarian workers.

This was the explanation given for Kadar's two sharp speeches broadcast Sunday and Monday in which he reversed his former conciliatory attitude in conferences with leaders of the workers' council of Greater Budapest.

Although Kadar has stated explicitly that the will add only "nonpartisans" to his presently 100 per cent Communist government, he conferred Tuesday for three hours with Bela Kovacs, secretary general of the Smallholders party.

Kovacs, who spent more than seven years in Russian prisons and is probably the only person the Hungarian peasantry would accept as their leader, had been a minister of state in Imre Nagy's short-lived government which the Russians overthrew.

What Kadar discussed with Kovacs could not be learned.

Promises of amnesty from Hungary's Russian-dominated government today failed to cut the flow of refugees into Austria from the revolt-torn country.

Instead the flood of fugitives increased again, after a brief slackening. The total who have reached Austria since the revolt against communism and Russian dictation passed the 90,000 mark.

Police in the Bregenz border province reported that 3,000 made it across the border Tuesday night, bringing the total for the last 24 hours to nearly 5,000. This was an increase over the day before, but not as many as the daily average last week.

The independent Vienna newspaper Die Presse quoted arriving refugees as charging that Communists were getting most of the food and other supplies being distributed by the International Red Cross in Budapest.

A spokesman for the Swiss-run Red Cross committee commented: "We are distributing Red Cross supplies in Budapest where they are most needed. We cannot guarantee that they will go to certain individuals, but we are doing our best to help any person in need."

The refugees claimed Communists were managing to monopolize the Red Cross aid by making their house and block wardens responsible for the distribution.

Police, Sheriff Probe Break-Ins

Three Burglary Attempts Reported

Three break-ins here Tuesday night or early Wednesday are being investigated by Washington C. H. police and Fayette County Sheriff Orland Hays. All three places were ransacked but nothing was missing.

The two city break-ins were at the Farm Bureau Co-op Building on S. Fayette St. and the Pure Oil Co. station, Dayton Ave. Sheriff Hays is investigating a burglary attempt at the Williams Service Station, 1204 S. Fayette St., just outside the corporation limits.

The sheriff said Richard Butcher, attendant at the Williams station, told him he had seen a car parked at the south end of the drive when he came to the station at 5:50 a.m. when he turned into the station, the sheriff said Butcher told him, the car "took off" but he had no chance to get the license number and that in the dark he was uncertain of the model of the car.

Mother Says Baby Is Held For Board Bill

BATAVIA (AP)—A legal fight is shaping up over a 9-month-old girl whose mother says the infant is held as hostage for a debt.

The mother, Mrs. Joyce Handley of Cincinnati, filed a habeas corpus action Tuesday with the Clermont County clerk of courts.

She charged that William W. Scott of nearby Milford refused to return her infant daughter, Victoria Ann.

The petition said Mrs. Handley left the youngster with his grandfather when she went on a "second honeymoon" to California recently.

But the grandfather took the child to the Scott home for boarding and Scott refused to hand over the infant until the board bill was paid.

Scott said Tuesday night, "I have had the baby since May 19 and she (Mrs. Handley) owes me more than $600."

He said the youngster was three months old and weighed seven pounds when he and his wife took over her care.

"The child had not been eating properly and we didn't think she would live," he said.

The First District Court of Appeals is slated to hear the case next Monday in Cincinnati.

News in Brief

Hundreds Said Missing in Asian Storms

MANILA (AP)—Hundreds of Asian seamen were missing and the crew of an American freighter was reported abandoning ship today as storms continued to sweep the South China Sea and the Western Pacific.

Globe Wireless intercepted a message from the 8,262-ton freighter Charles E. Dant saying the captain had ordered his 46 crewmen off in Lingayen Gulf, on the west coast of Luzon island.

The U. S. Navy ship Muskingum had been standing by and presumably took the men aboard.

The Dant took a bad list when the cargo of copper concentrates it was hauling from the Philippines to Tacoma, Wash., shifted in heavy sea.

Hope dwindled for hundreds of Malay and Chinese fishermen missing off the East Coast of Malaysia as more bad weather grounded British air force planes and kept Royal Navy ships out of the area. A gale early Monday smashed 80 fish traps off Johore State. Built of poles driven in deep water and fitted with nets, the traps each had up to a half dozen men living in small huts on them.

Johore police said between 200 and 300 men were believed missing. Typhoon Olive, packing center winds of 75 miles an hour, struck Luzon island, in the Philippines, today. There were no immediate reports of damage on land.

Air Force Denies 'Pressure' Behind Officer's Dismissal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force has accepted the resignation of Lt. Titus A. Saunders while disputing his contention that he was pressured by a Southern senator into dismissing him.

Saunders, a 25-year-old Negro, changed his mind several times after the Air Force last week gave him the option of resigning his commission under honorable conditions or being dropped from the rolls.

An Air Force spokesman said this is standard procedure in cases where a reserve officer has been convicted in a civil court. Saunders was convicted on charges of drunken driving in Mississippi in 1954.

Saunders had said Pentagon officials had told him that Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.) had been using pressure to have him either transferred back to Mississippi or dropped from the service.

An Air Force spokesman denied that "pressure" was involved. Stennis, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he had written Pentagon officials "inviting their attention to the case and calling on them to take action with reference to keeping an officer who is in default of his bond."

Saunders was freed on $2,000 bond while he appealed the drunken driving conviction returned by a Mississippi court. At the time of the arrest, he was stationed at Columbus, Ga.

While out on bond and while the appeal was pending, Saunders was transferred to Lockbourne Air Base, Ohio.

Saunders appealed the case to the Mississippi Supreme Court on the basis that he had driven his car to the curb and parked it off the instructions of a police officer after an accident. Saunders' car had collided with another, but a woman companion had been driving Saunders' car at the time of the accident.

The state supreme court upheld his conviction.

Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche last summer refused a request by the state of Mississippi to have Saunders extradited to serve a six-month jail sentence arising out of his conviction.

British Ask For Probe of Hostage Plot

Syria, Iraq Bristle Anew, Exchange Barbs; Showdown Seen Near

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Middle East continued to seethe with unrest today. In Egypt, a British official has appealed for a Red Cross investigation of reports that Egypt is holding one member of each Jewish family hostage in Port Said.

And in the two Arab countries of Syria and Iraq, drumbeat tension has increased steadily with the feeling growing that a break may come within a few days.

The Red Cross inquiry was requested by Harry Cioe, British consul in Port Said as other protests were raised against reported Egyptian plans to deport British, French and Jewish residents from Egypt.

Egypt has denied that any mass expulsion is planned but said British and French nationals were placed under "restricted residence" for their own protection.

Cioe said he cabled the British Foreign Office asking intervention by neutral Switzerland to find out from President Nasser what has happened to the missing Jews.

JEWISH RESIDENTS of Port Said, who number about 3,000, have reported that one member of each family was taken away by Egyptian police the night of Nov. 1. None has been heard from since. British-French troops landed in the canal zone Nov. 5.

Cioe said the secret police seized a number of Jewish leaders in raids in other Egyptian cities. The consul appealed for help through the Swiss Red Cross because Egypt has severed relations with Britain and no longer recognizes the consulate.

Israel's foreign minister, Mrs. Golda Meir, sent an appeal to the head of the U. N. General Assembly asking intervention on behalf of the Jews in Egypt.

She said some 30,000 Jews were liable to be deported and declared such action would violate the human rights provision of the U. N. Charter.

A Greek steamer arrived in Athens with 400 British, French and Jewish passengers. Some said the Egyptians had forced them to sign statements before departing that they were leaving voluntarily, but they knew they would be jailed if they remained.

'57 Soil Bank Pay Policy Is Outlined

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today payments to farmers who participate in the 1957 soil bank program will not be made in most cases until the latest crops involved are harvested.

Such a delay, the department said, is necessary to make sure that all regulations have been met before payment is made.

Today's announcement applies both to winter wheat and to all other basic crops which will be eligible for payment certificates under the acreage reserve part of the soil bank.

Farmers in 1956 put some 12 million acres of land into the acreage reserve part of the soil bank program and already have received more than $200 million in payments. Next year the department is hopeful that about 20 million acres will be signed up for the acreage reserve part of the program and another 20 to 25 million acres under the conservation reserve.

Under the acreage reserve, cropland is taken out of production. The land designated for the program is put into grass and trees. In both cases, a primary objective is to cut production and reduce surpluses.

Malenkov Said Now Adviser To Puppet Chief in Hungary

BUDAPEST (AP)—Former Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov was reliably reported today to be in Budapest to bolster the government of Russian-installed Premier Janos Kadar.

An excellent source, who asked not to be quoted by name, said Malenkov, now a deputy Soviet premier, arrived in the Hungarian capital Nov. 23.

Police in the Bregenzland border province reported that 3,000 made it across the border Tuesday night, bringing the total for the last 24 hours to nearly 5,000. This was an increase over the day before, but not as many as the daily average last week.

Police, Sheriff Probe Break-Ins

Three Burglary Attempts Reported

Three break-ins here Tuesday night or early Wednesday are being investigated by Washington C. H. police and Fayette County Sheriff Orland Hays. All three places were ransacked but nothing was missing.

The two city break-ins were at the Farm Bureau Co-op Building on S. Fayette St. and the Pure Oil Co. station, Dayton Ave. Sheriff Hays is investigating a burglary attempt at the Williams Service Station, 1204 S. Fayette St., just outside the corporation limits.

The sheriff said Richard Butcher, attendant at the Williams station, told him he had seen a car parked at the south end of the drive when he came to the station at 5:50 a. m. When he turned into the station, the sheriff said Butcher told him, the car "took off" to the Chillicothe Pike so fast he had no chance to get the license number and that in the dark he was uncertain of the model of the car.

Entrance to the station had been

Mother Says Baby Is Held For Board Bill

BATAVIA (AP)—A legal fight is shaping up over a 9-month-old girl whose mother says the infant is held as hostage for a debt.

The mother, Mrs. Joyce Handley of Cincinnati, filed a habeas corpus action Tuesday with the Clermont County clerk of courts.

She charged that William W. Scott of nearby Milford refused to return her infant daughter, Victoria Ann.

The petition said Mrs. Handley left the youngster with its grandfather when she went on a "second honeymoon" to California recently.

But the grandfather took the child to the Scott home for boarding and Scott refused to hand over the infant until the board bill was paid.

Scott said Tuesday night, "I have had the baby since May 19 and she (Mrs. Handley) owes me more than $600."

He said the youngster was three months old and weighed seven pounds when he and his wife took over her care.

"The child had not been eating properly and we didn't think she would live," he said.

The First District Court of Appeals is slated to hear the case next Monday in Cincinnati.

British Ask For Probe of Hostage Plot

Syria, Iraq Bristle Anew, Exchange Barbs; Showdown Seen Near

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Middle East continued to seethe with unrest today. In Egypt, a British official has appealed for a Red Cross investigation of reports that Egypt is holding one member of each Jewish family hostage in Port Said.

And in the two Arab countries of Syria and Iraq, drumhead tension has increased steadily with the feeling growing that a break may come within a few days.

The Red Cross inquiry was requested by Harry Coe, British consul in Port Said as other protests were raised against reported Egyptian plans to deport British, French and Jewish residents from Egypt.

Egypt has denied that any mass expulsion is planned but said British and French nationals were placed under "restricted residence" for their own protection.

Coe said he cabled the British Foreign Office asking intervention by neutral Switzerland to find out from President Nasser what has happened to the missing Jews.

JEWISH RESIDENTS of Port Said, who number about 3,000, have reported that one member of each family was taken away by Egyptian police the night of Nov. 1. None has been heard from since. British-French troops landed in the canal zone Nov. 5.

Coe said the secret police seized a number of Jewish leaders in raids in other Egyptian cities. The consul appealed for help through the Swiss Red Cross because Egypt has severed relations with Britain and no longer recognizes the consulate.

Israel's foreign minister, Mrs. Golda Meir, sent an appeal to the head of the U. N. General Assembly asking intervention on behalf of the Jews in Egypt.

She said some 30,000 Jews were liable to be deported and declared such action would violate the human rights provision of the U. N. Charter.

A Greek steamship arrived in Athens with 400 British, French and Jewish passengers. Some said the Egyptians had forced them to sign statements before departing that they were leaving voluntarily, but they knew they would be jailed if they remained.

'57 Soil Bank Pay Policy Is Outlined

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today payments to farmers who participate in the 1957 soil bank program will not be made in most cases until the latest crops involved are harvested.

Such a delay, the department said, is necessary to make sure that all regulations have been met before payment is made.

Today's announcement applies both to winter wheat and to all other basic crops which will be eligible for payment certificates under the acreage reserve part of the soil bank.

Farmers in 1956 put some 12 million acres of land into the acreage reserve part of the soil bank program and already have received more than $200 million in payments. Next year the department is hopeful that about 20 million acres will be signed up for the acreage reserve part of the program and another 20 to 25 million acres under the conservation reserve.

Under the acreage reserve, cropland is taken out of production. Under the conservation reserve, the land designated for the program is put into grass and trees. In both cases, a primary objective is to cut production and reduce surpluses.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force has accepted the resignation of Lt. Titus A. Saunders while disputing his contention that it was pressured by a Southern senator into dismissing him.

Saunders, a 25-year-old Negro, changed his mind several times after the Air Force last week gave him the option of resigning his commission under honorable conditions or being dropped from the rolls.

An Air Force spokesman said this is standard procedure in cases where a reserve officer has been convicted in a civil court. Saunders was convicted on charges of drunk driving in Mississippi in 1954.

Saunders had said Pentagon officials had told him that Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) had been using pressure to have him either transferred back to Mississippi or dropped from the service.

An Air Force spokesman denied that "pressure" was involved. Stennis, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he had written Pentagon officials "inviting their attention to the case and calling on them to take action with reference to keeping an officer who is in default of his bond."

Saunders was freed on $2,000 bond while he appealed the drunk driving conviction returned by a Mississippi court. At the time of the arrest, he was stationed at Columbus, Ga.

While out on bond and while the appeal was pending, Saunders was transferred to Lockbourne Air Base, Ohio.

Saunders appealed the case to the Mississippi Supreme Court on the basis that he had driven his car to the curb and parked it on the instructions of a police officer after an accident. Saunders' car had collided with another, but a woman companion had been driving Saunders' car at the time of the accident.

The state supreme court upheld his conviction.

Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche last summer refused a request by the state of Mississippi to have Saunders extradited to serve a six-month jail sentence arising out of his conviction.

A native of Meigs, Ga., Saunders is married and has a 5-month-old son. His college degree entitles him to teach high school English and social studies. He said he is looking for "any kind of job opportunity."

He will be separated from the Air Force on Saturday.

Prison Gates Close behind Fayette Farmer

George Baldridge is now a number in the Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus.

The big gates closed behind the former Adams County sheriff and later a prosperous Fayette County farmer, at 2:40 p. m. Tuesday.

He is now starting, for the second time, to serve a one-to-20 year sentence for the shotgun killing of Game Protector Irvin J. Patrick on the opening day of hunting season last year.

He was found guilty of first degree manslaughter by the jury at his trial last March for shooting Patrick after he had arrested a hunter on the Baldridge farm on Prairie Rd. who had bagged a hen pheasant.

BALDRIDGE was taken to the penitentiary Tuesday afternoon less than three hours after costs in his appeal had been certified to the clerk of courts here by the Court of Appeals. The court had previously sustained his conviction in the Common Pleas Court.

His attorneys have indicated the case may be carried to the state Supreme Court.

On the 40-mile drive to the penitentiary, Sheriff Hays was accompanied by Mrs. Hays. Baldridge sat by himself in the back seat.

Sheriff Hays said that Baldridge, while appearing outwardly calm, had talked incessantly all the way to Columbus. Most of the time, the sheriff said, he was reminiscing about his days as sheriff of Adams County or telling about his farming operations, occasionally touching on his farm plans for the future.

The sheriff said he frequently referred to being "broke" because of the expense of the trial.

HE WAS arrested Tuesday morning at his farm and placed in jail about noon to await receipt of the cost certification from the Court of Appeals. As soon as they were received by Mrs. Dorothy West, the clerk, the sheriff, Mrs. Hays and Baldridge got into the car parked back of the jail and left for Columbus at about 1:30 p. m.

Baldridge took with him to the penitentiary only a carton of cigarettes, his razor and shaving kit and $103.65, the sheriff said.

Tax Hike Studied By State Officials

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The tax and revenue study committee of the Ohio Legislative Service Commission is considering raising possibly 10 million dollars annually in additional state revenue.

It would be done through re-enactment of the first penny of sales tax and elimination of pre-paid stamps. John Sipton, commission director, submitted the suggestions Tuesday to the study committee.

The first penny of tax on sales from 10 to 41 cents was taken off in 1948. Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), committee chairman, appointed a subcommittee to study the tax question further.

Defense Move Overruled in Damage Case

A motion for a directed verdict in favor of Lowell Kaufman, who is being sued for $50,000 damages by 16-year-old Wayne Adams for injuries sustained in a tractor accident four years ago, was overruled by Judge John P. Case in Common Pleas Court here just before the Wednesday noon recess.

The motion came after the plaintiff, who brought the suit through his father, Frank Adams of Greenfield, had rested his case.

The opening statement was made for the plaintiff by Attorney Charles Wilson of West Union and for the defendant by Attorney William Junk Monday afternoon after the morning of the opening day of the trial had been devoted to seating a jury of nine women and three men.

WAYNE ADAMS took the witness stand Wednesday morning to give his version of the accident in which he claims to have suffered permanent injuries, including a broken leg.

He was the last of six witnesses for the plaintiff. His parents, a brother, David; Dr. Byers Shaw, a surgeon at Memorial Hospital where Wayne was taken after the accident, and Mrs. Phyllis Light, record clerk at the hospital, had testified Monday afternoon.

The defense is scheduled to present its case after court reconvenes at 1 p. m. Wednesday.

The suit for damages alleges that Wayne Adams, 12 years old at that time, was injured in an accident at the junction of the Robinson Rd. and E. Elm St. on Jan. 19, 1952, when a tractor owned by Kaufman turned over. The petition states that the tractor was driven by 15-year-old Norman Adams, and that Larry Adams, also 12 years old at the time, was riding on it. It also alleges the boys were employed by Kaufman at the time.

Ohio Farm Bureau Stamps Its OK on 75 Resolutions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The 38th meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation ended Tuesday after re-election of all of its officers and approval of some 75 resolutions.

H. D. Heckathorn of Wyandot County was re-elected president for the third time. Other re-elected officers include Ferris Owen, Newark, vice president; Rex Long, Loudonville, treasurer, and D. R. Stanfield, Columbus, executive secretary and organization director. Organization objectives approved included (1) no further increases in real estate taxes, (2) stiffer safety enforcement, (3) a state milk control law, (4) a law holding parents liable for acts of vandalism committed by their minor children, (5) further development of the Ohio State Fairgrounds in Columbus and (6) creation of a water study commission.

At the national level, delegates urged continuation of the soil bank after 1959 "if needed to keep supply in line with demand." They said the Tennessee Valley Authority's work should be continued "free of political restraints."

THERE WERE increasing signs of unrest. A Baghdad dispatch quoted a government statement as saying two civilians were killed and a number of policemen and civilians hurt in a demonstration at Najaf, a Moslem holy city in southwest Iraq. It did not say what set off the trouble.

Damascus dispatches quoted an Iraqi who claimed to be a refugee as saying Iraqi army officers had attempted a "mutiny" against the present regime in Baghdad. He said this occurred 12 days ago in protest against permitting British planes to refuel to Habbaniya air base.

The refugee claimed demonstrations flared in Baghdad and other cities when the people learned the officers were arrested, and that "dozens" of people were killed and wounded.

The Syrian-Iraqi crisis built up in a continuing exchange of bitter charges. Jordan's decision to cut ties with Britain and consider closer relations with Russia underlined the possibility of deeper Soviet penetration into the fermenting Middle East.

Iraq accuses Syria of conducting a subversive campaign against the government of Iraqi Premier Nuri Said, an opponent of Soviet moves to extend its middle east influence.

Syria charges Iraq with seeking to destroy the governments of both Syria and Jordan.

GLASS was broken out of the rear door of the Farm Bureau Co-op building and the screen behind it pried loose by burglars to get inside, police reported after making an investigation Wednesday morning.

They were notified of the break-in by Frank Boso, manager of the produce department, at 7:45 a. m. They said nothing apparently was missing, although there was evidence that a thorough search of the building had been made.

At the Pure Oil Co. station glass had been broken out of the front door, police reported, and the desk and cash register ransacked. Only a few pennies left in the cash register were missing. Don Stephens, the manager, said it was a policy at the station to leave no money, except possibly pennies, in the cash register and that the drawer of the register was always left open. He added that the usual service station stock of tires, anti-freeze, oil and small accessories in the station had not been disturbed.

POLICE CHIEF Vaiden Long and Sheriff Hays expressed the opinion that the burglars had been looking for money—and nothing else.

Although the officers admitted clues were meager, the inter-city police radio was kept humming during the morning. Most of the conversations were with law enforcement officers in Chillicothe and Wilmington police and the State Highway Patrol headquarters at Wilmington.

Top Carcasses Bring Record Sale Prices

CHICAGO (AP)—Three grand champion carcasses Tuesday night brought new high sale prices in an unprecedented auction before 12,000 spectators at the International Livestock Exposition.

The 60-pound champion lamb was sold for $13 a pound, cracking a 1925 record of $8 a pound. Allen Bros., a Chicago hotel supply firm bought the lamb at $780.

Meanwhile, the 611-pound champion Angus steer carcass was sold on a bid of $8.25 a pound for $5,040.75. The bid by Pfaltz Bros., Chicago purveyors, broke the $7 a pound record also set in 1925.

The 149-pound champion barrow sold for $8 a pound, eclipsing a $1.60 price per pound in 1928. The

Armour Hotel Supply Co. got the carcass for $1,192.

A 980-pound Shorthorn senior cow shown by Pennsylvania State University has been named grand champion steer of the exposition.

Penn State also won the reserve championship on a junior yearling Aberdeen-Angus that scaled 1,160 pounds.

Both of these will be sold at auction and more record prices are possible.

Damascus dispatches quoted an Iraqi who claimed to be a refugee as saying Iraqi army officers had attempted a "mutiny" against the present regime in Baghdad. He said this occurred 12 days ago in protest against permitting British planes to refuel to Habbaniya air base.

The refugee claimed demonstrations flared in Baghdad and other cities when the people learned the officers were arrested, and that "dozens" of people were killed and wounded.

The Syrian-Iraqi crisis built up in a continuing exchange of bitter charges. Jordan's decision to cut its ties with Britain and consider closer relations with Russia underlined the possibility of deeper Soviet penetration into the fermenting Middle East.

Iraq accuses Syria of conducting a subversive campaign against the government of Iraqi Premier Nuri Said, an opponent of Soviet moves to extend its middle east influence. Syria charges Iraq with seeking to destroy the governments of both Syria and Jordan.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Bernie Crimmins resigned today as head football coach at Indiana University, effective Jan. 1.

Break-Ins Probed

(Continued from Page One) gained through the front door, from which the glass had been broken. There was evidence that the office had been searched before the burglars left by the back door, which was locked when the station was closed, but unlocked Wednesday morning when Butcher got there.

GLASS was broken out of the rear door of the Farm Bureau Co-op building and the screen behind it pried loose by burglars to get inside, police reported after making an investigation Wednesday morning.

They were notified of the break-in by Frank Boso, manager of the produce department, at 7:45 a. m. They said nothing apparently was missing, although there was evidence that a thorough search of the building had been made.

At the Pure Oil Co. station glass had been broken out of the front door, police reported, and the desk and cash register ransacked. Only a few pennies left in the cash register were missing. Don Stephens, the manager, said it was a policy at the station to leave no money, except possibly pennies, in the cash register and that the drawer of the register was always left open. He added that the usual service station stock of tires, anti-freeze, oil and small accessories in the station had not been disturbed.

POLICE CHIEF Vaiden Long and Sheriff Hays expressed the opinion that the burglars had been looking for money—and nothing else.

Although the officers admitted clues were meager, the inter-city police radio was kept humming during the morning. Most of the conversations were with law enforcement officers in Chillicothe and Wilmington police and the State Highway Patrol headquarters at Wilmington.

Ike's Aid Plea

(Continued from Page One) current levels. This spending now totals about $4.2 billion annually—$2.7 billion of it for military aid.

One big unresolved question at present, informants said, is what to do about foreign aid to the war-torn Middle East. Economic aid programs have been suspended for Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Syria.

Planners are holding off a decision on funds for the Middle East in the hope that outlines of a peaceful settlement of present tensions may become clear.

Top Carcasses Bring Record Sale Prices

CHICAGO (AP)—Three grand champion carcasses Tuesday night brought new high sale prices in an unprecedented auction before 12,000 spectators at the International Livestock Exposition.

The 60-pound champion lamb was sold for $13 a pound, cracking a 1925 record of $8 a pound. Allen Bros., a Chicago hotel supply firm bought the lamb at $780.

Meanwhile, the 611-pound champion Angus steer carcass was sold on a bid of $8.25 a pound for $5,040.75. The bid by Pfaltz Bros., Chicago purveyors, broke the $7 a pound record also set in 1925.

The 149-pound champion barrow sold for $8 a pound, eclipsing a $1.60 price per pound in 1928. The

Armour Hotel Supply Co. got the carcass for $1,192.

A 980-pound Shorthorn senior car shown by Pennsylvania State University has been named grand champion steer of the exposition.

Penn State also won the reserve championship on a junior yearling Aberdeen-Angus that scaled 1,16 pounds.

Both of these will be sold at auction and more record prices are possible.

Father, Child Killed by Fumes

DAYTON (AP)—Wilgus Tipton, 30, and his 11-month-old daughter, Lovona Sue, were found dead Tuesday in a Dayton apartment apparently of gas asphyxiation.

Corner Dr. Robert E. Zipf said Mrs. Tipton, 29, was found unconscious in the apartment and was rushed to a Dayton hospital where her condition is serious.

Rotarians View Operations of New Candy Plant

Paul Arthur Host To Service Club at Millwood Factory

Members of the Washington Rotary Club and some of the guests present at Tuesday's luncheon meeting, spent more than the usual time ordinarily given to the weekly program, in an inspection trip to the new plant of Art's Candy Manufacturing Co., on Oakland Ave., in Millwood.

Paul E. Arthur, head of the plant and a new member of Rotary here was presented by William Stoughton. Arthur spoke briefly and then led the club members to his factory for a view of its operations.

In Stoughton's introduction and in Arthur's brief talk, it was indicated that since the recent opening of the candy plant business of the company has leaped upward so rapidly that the plant has a backlog of orders.

The stick candy produced by the company is a popular item, and the addition of peanut brittle and perhaps, several other lines, will mean, according to Arthur, an increase to at least 25 employees in the early future.

MORE THAN A YEAR ago Arthur came here from Kentucky where he was in the candy manufacturing business and would have located here then except for inability to secure a satisfactory plant building. He moved on to Mount Sterling and found a building which did not permit expansion, later coming here where he secured a new building for his present plant.

DURING Tuesday's meeting the two student guests from Washington High School, John Knedler and Ted Clarke were presented by Mike Harrison. Clarke the outgoing guest, thanked the club for their invitation.

Birthday greetings were sung for John Leland, Charles Pensly and Clarence Cooper with the usual contributions being made to the club youth fund.

Guests present were Charles Shipley, with Emerson Warner and Homer Arnold, with Robert Green.

PRESIDENT ROBERT LISK announced that a Rotary Assembly dinner meeting will be held in the banquet room of the Washington Hotel at 6:30 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 12. Not only chairmen of all committees but also other committee men and all new club members are asked to be present. A discussion of the past six months' meetings will be conducted, and plans will be considered for the next six months.

An effort is being made to get the Mount Sterling Rotary Club back into action, after its recent decision to adjourn its meetings indefinitely. Lisk told the club that London Rotarians had been in touch with him seeking a cooperative effort to accomplish this. There is to be a meeting of some of the officials of both clubs at an early date to determine what can be done.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Many years ago when rats were much more numerous in this area than at present, the farmers had no "Pied Piper of Hamelin" to entice the rats into a River Weser and drown them, so they organized rat hunts and destroyed the rodents by the thousands.

The hunts were conducted over wide areas by two teams, and the team producing the largest number of rat tails at the conclusion of the hunts, paid for a banquet for the winning team, and all enjoyed the affair together.

In these rat hunts the men and boys, armed with shovels, spades, and accompanied by dogs, went from farm to farm and literally "tore up the place" (with the ready consent of the owner).

Sometimes as many as 150 rats would be killed on a single farm. The hunters also obtained assistance of farmers themselves, just so the tails were obtained and counted by the men engaged in the contest.

It probably has been 35 or 40 years since the last rat hunt was held in Fayette County.

Inasmuch as economists figure that the average rat causes $5 damage each year, the saving to farmers and others when thousands of rats were destroyed in a big hunt was well worth the effort.

Strange as it may seem, the corn picker of today is virtually a "Pied Piper of Hamelin," as it wipes out the necessity for corn shocks which always proved a good hiding place for rats. They had their food (corn) all about them and dined under the shocks.

While the rat population has decreased, there are still too many rats. But since the old type of city dump has gone forever, Washington C. H. has fewer rats than before.

I never think of destroying rats but what I think of that famous poem of Robert Browning comes to mind—"The Pied Piper of Hamelin," and if you have never read it, well don't wait any longer.

As only Browning could do it, the story tells graphically in rhyme how the mayor of Hamelin employed the roving piper to clear the town of rats.

Guests present were Charles Shipley, with Emerson Warner and Homer Arnold, with Robert Green.

city of rats. How the rats "great rats, small rats, lean rats, tawny rats, grave old plodders, gay young friskies," followed the piper as he played, and plunging into the river, Weser all drowned except one.

When the piper sought to collect his 1,000 guilders, promised by the mayor, the mayor refused to pay and laughed at him, so the piper started playing once more and all of the children followed him into a nearby mountain which opened and swallowed them, except the one crippled youngster who could not keep up.

MUCH HARDWOOD LUMBER

The Willis Lumber Co., of which Harris D. Willis is the head, has a large number of hardwood logs in the yards on Millikan Ave., at the present time, and the mill is kept busy. The company hauls logs for as many as 75 miles away to keep the saws buzzing at the mill here.

I notice the logs are of oak, elm, sycamore, walnut, honeylocust, etc., and I was surprised to note that many popular logs are also in the yards.

Most of the hardwood is sawed into farm lumber, for fencing and framework for buildings. Some is sawed for the manufacture of furniture.

The Willis Company is one of the oldest home-owned businesses in the community.

BURIED TREASURE HERE! Although Captain Kidd never got as far inland as Fayette County, tradition has it that there is buried Indian treasure along the banks of Sugar Creek, south of Parrett Station.

According to the story handed down from generation to generation, a lone Indian came back to Fayette County many years after his tribesmen had been forced westward to the plains by advancing civilization, and spent some time searching for buried treasure along Sugar Creek, but so far as known as he left without having found it.

It seems that he or his tribesmen had carved a turtle on the roof of a large tree marking the spot where the treasure was buried, and when he came back the tree, along with others which had stood in the area, had been cut away and the stumps burned out.

Just what kind of treasure the Indians had buried (some of the last ones to leave Fayette County seem to have been located on "Indian Hill" on the Colin Campbell farm) is hard to figure, unless it was money or other valuables stolen from murdered settlers.

I know of another instance where an Indian came back into Ohio years after the tribe had moved west—and spent weeks searching for something in a ravine near "Daniel Boone's Rock House," a cave in Gallia County, along the banks of Raccoon Creek, where Daniel Boone and Simon Kenton spent the winter of 1792 and 1793 trapping other and beaver. Apparently that Indian never found the treasure he sought, for he left empty-handed.

DRAIN FOR RESERVOIR

Work of laying a six-inch tile about the base of the wall of the Ohio Water Service Co.'s 200 million-gallon reservoir has been completed. Considerable seepage had developed.

The seepage was on the south and part of the east side of the big earthen bowl, but has not been in quantities sufficient to cause concern. The tile is expected to easily carry off the water which seeps through the thick earthen walls.

No seepage has developed on the north and west sides of the big saucer, which is kept nearly full of water at all times.

Forest Shade Pancake Supper Set Saturday

Plans are being completed for the pancake and sausage supper to be served by Forest Shade Grange Saturday evening at the Grange Hall in New Martinsburg.

Robert Ritter and Willard Williamson will take their places at the big griddles and frying pans and start dishing them out at about 6 o'clock. They had that assignment at the two similar suppers last year and are being counted on for a repeat performance.

Preparations are being made to serve around 300 and part of that preparation was the butchering of three fat hogs for the sausage. A member of the committee said that all the meat, including the hams and tenderloins, had gone in to the sausage.

Floyd Hoppes is master of Forest Shade Grange, and Mrs. Eldon Bethards and Mrs. Russell Grice head the committee on arrangements. Nearly every one of the members, however, is helping in one way or another.

The supper will be served cafeteria style in the hall in which three rows of long tables are to be set up. While about 100 can be accommodated at the tables, there is another room in which the people may gather and visit before and after the supper.

The purpose of the supper is to raise money to help pay off some of the indebtedness on the new Grange Hall, built to replace the building destroyed by fire several years ago.

Commonwealth Said Shaken

OTTAWA, Ont. (U-P)—Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson told the House of Commons Tuesday that at one point after the British-French intervention in Egypt the British commonwealth was "on the verge of dissolution."

The commonwealth consists of Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Pakistan and Ceylon. It includes the federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, along with colonies, protectorates and territories under trusteeship.

Pearson's speech followed up one by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent criticizing the "big powers," including Britain and France, for actions in Egypt.

Plans are being completed for the pancake and sausage supper to be served by Forest Shade Grange Saturday evening at the Grange Hall in New Martinsburg.

Robert Ritter and Willard Williamson will take their places at the big griddles and frying pans and start dishing them out at about 6 o'clock. They had that assignment at the two similar suppers last year and are being counted on for a repeat performance.

Preparations are being made to serve around 300 and part of that preparation was the butchering of three fat hogs for the sausage. A member of the committee said that all the meat, including the hams and tenderloins, had gone into the sausage.

Floyd Hoppes is master of Forest Shade Grange, and Mrs. Eldon Bethards and Mrs. Russell Grice head the committee on arrangements. Nearly every one of the members, however, is helping in one way or another.

The supper will be served cafeteria - style in the hall in which three rows of long tables are to be set up. While about 100 can be accommodated at the tables, there is another room in which the people may gather and visit before and after the supper.

The purpose of the supper is to raise money to help pay off some of the indebtedness on the new Grange Hall, built to replace the building destroyed by fire several years ago.

Women Threatened With Jail Terms

MEDINA (U.P.)—Women who venture into downtown Wadsworth without a pass between 6 and 9 p. m. Dec. 12 "will be thrown in the pokey," the local chamber of commerce says.

The chamber and the junior chamber will sponsor a "man's night" that evening. The program includes a vaudeville show. Downtown stores plan to have models to show women's dresses, robes and negligees. Women who are working can stay downtown, but they must get passes from their employers.

DRAIN FOR RESERVOIR Work of laying a six-inch tile about the base of the wall of the Ohio Water Service Co.'s 200 million-gallon reservoir has been completed. Considerable seepage had developed.

The seepage was on the south and part of the east side of the big earthen bowl, but has not been in quantities sufficient to cause concern. The tile is expected to easily carry off the water which seeps through the thick earthen walls.

No seepage has developed on the north and west sides of the big saucer, which is kept nearly full of water at all times.

Public Thinking On Our Foreign Policy

There seems to be a strong undercurrent of feeling expressed in many sections of the country that this nation should make a definite turn to its historical and traditional foreign policy of many years ago to avoid anything like entangling military alliances.

While this nation was never on a strictly "isolation" basis, the turn of world events over a long period of time has tied us up with treaties which has caused the United States to become involved in many international crises.

Much of the cause for our entering wars in the last several years is assumed to be due to the fact that we became a party to them due to a national feeling that we were following a policy of self-protection; to a well recognized idea that threats made by such dictators as Hitler, Stalin and others made it necessary that we maintain a close understanding with various other nations that we would help oppose such rulers who appeared to be seeking world domination.

Our traditional foreign policy of a half century ago had been handed down from George Washington. However, with the need for trade with other nations and the advances in science and transportation, our leaders of a later day have gradually moved the country away from the old theory of "no entangling alliances".

Up to a certain point our traditional American policy of more recent years has been to make no permanent military alliances, to adopt no favorite nations, to be neutral in all conflicts that do not directly engage American rights and interests and, where possible, to use that position to limit and reconcile such conflicts as may arise between others. This same viewpoint is being adopted elsewhere in the world, and most postwar military alliances are dissolving.

Now changes are being made. The U. S. Policy for some time has been somewhat based on written and unwritten fixed alliances designed to bring about collective security for various nations. Under that policy we have felt ourselves pledged to participate actively in almost every emergency, large or small, whether or not our own interests were clearly at stake.

The grave trouble in the Middle East, and more specifically, the words used by President Eisenhower in declaring that we would not join England and France and Israel in military action there, have served to clarify and highlight what is happening. He said there have been injustices suffered by all the nations involved — "But I do not believe that another instrument of injustice—war—is a remedy for those wrongs."

Superficially, this may seem only a conventional observation, with no great significance. Some well known publications see it in a very different light. The fact is that for more than a generation it has been an article of belief in this country that, even though war may be at times an instrument of injustice, it is also a remedy of injustice. . . Until President Eisenhower, there were few signs that most statesmen had lost their faith in the remedy of war.

President Eisenhower also said, in the same message, "There can be no peace without law. And there can be no law if we work to invoke one code of international conduct for those who oppose and another for our friends." What the President is saying is that in our dealings with other nations we will not simply choose up sides and then limit our future action to supporting our team irrespective of the conduct of the other members of the team. In short, the United States will on each occasion do what it thinks is right even if it means going against old friends. . . The President has said that the United States will not enter wars just to try to patch up the world. He has announced that henceforth the United States will choose its course by its own lights even if it means walking alone.

This was a grave decision to make. No one places a higher value on NATO and the other instruments of western alliance than does the President, and certainly no one has been more intimately connected with forging and building them. However he places a still higher value on what he views as the interests of this country at this time.

On Same Payroll 80 Years

CORNING, N. Y. (AP)—Frank J. Hultzman is a man who looked for steady work and did a better job of finding it than perhaps any other living American.

At 92 Hultzman, a retired glass blower who turned out some of the world's first electric light bulbs, has been on the same payroll 80 consecutive years.

A spokesman for the Corning Glass Works said, "this service record is believed to be the longest continuous employment record in American industry."

Hultzman, a blue-eyed, Buddha-faced little man with a pockmarked nose and a cap even in the house to protect his bald head from the cold, may well have lunged up another record along the way. In the last 8 decades he has chewed about 60,000 packs of tobacco.

He started chewing tobacco at 12 the same day he went to work in the glass works in 1876 during the last year of President U. S. Grant's second administration.

"He never missed a day of work in his life and he never missed a day of chewing tobacco," said Mrs. Edna Sullivan, his widowed daughter. "He'll still chew two packs a day if I let him."

At the start of his career he was paid $3.30 for a 55-hour week. Glass blowing is hot work, and in those informal days one of his chores was to "rush the growler," that is, fetch beer so the thirsty gaffers, or master glassmakers, could cool their pipes.

Hultzman is one of the few surviving workmen who can remember the birth of the electric age. He was on the scene in 1879 when the first glass "bubbles" were blown to enclose the glowing filaments with which Thomas A. Edison revolutionized lighting.

Soon, as a gaffer himself, he and two helpers were turning out 1,200 light bulbs a day.

His life story is the simple saga of a man who found happiness in his own hometown. One job, one wife, five children.

Hultzman has a cane but won't carry it. He has a pair of reading glasses, but won't put them on. He has two sets of false teeth, but won't wear them. Says he'll gum it the rest of the way.

"But he can eat anything, including steak," said his daughter. On fine days the old man likes to walk to a hill overlooking the plant where he worked so many years.

"I can remember they used to pay us in gold pieces . . . I used to like to go berry picking in the hills . . . I could get me a quart of blueberries or blackberries in no time—chestnuts, too—and now there aren't any in the hills."

"In those days it was work, work, work on the job . . . they have it easier now . . . but when you do your work, you're all right."

Asked what he thought about the world today, the nation's marathon jobholder said: "It's going pretty fast. If it's got any better, it's because we tried this and we tried that and we tried, anyway."

"Ain't anything bothers me. I'm happy." He has 29 living descendants, including his son, "Dutch," who has been 56 years on the glass works payroll and, at 70, is showing signs of settling down and staying put.

Recognition for Red China

The United Nations wisely has postponed the consideration of Red China. This is surely not the year for a general debate on this subject, the world being sufficiently disturbed by the Egyptian and Hungarian and Hungarian demarches of Soviet Russia.

The leadership of the plea for the discussion of admitting Red China was India's representative at the United Nations, Krishna Menon, who has so often acted as a front for Soviet Russia.

Dr. Stanley Hornbeck, who, before Roosevelt, was regarded as America's leading authority on China, has described Red China in the following terms:

" . . . Since gaining control over most of mainland China, it has done its utmost to destroy all thought of individual freedom and to impose upon the 500 million people of China a regime modeled upon that of the Soviet Union. . . it has made China a focal point for the propagation of Communist ideology and activity among the peoples of Eastern Asia."

It has openly declared itself indebted to the Soviet Union for its very existence. It has entered into formal alliance with that country and draws upon it for sponsorship and guidance. It employs tens of thousands of Soviet nationals, civilian and military, as 'advisers' and technicians. It maintains a very large and ever-growing military establishment which depends on the Soviet Union for most of its equipment, much of its training and some of its operations. It abuses its own nationals of other countries. It violates the United States and seeks to inflame its own and other peoples against the free world."

It would seem logical, if this indictment is correct, as I am sure it is, that no nations in the West can vote to admit Red China into the United Nations, particularly as that country, to use Hornbeck's language, " . . . has become an aggressor, and the United Nations has formally declared it to be such. It was an aggressor directly in Korea, where it defied and made war upon the United Nations, and indirectly in Indo-China, where it supported the Viet-Minh by supplying munitions to armed forces seeking to bring the associated states under Communist domination. . ."

Unfortunately, countries, like individuals, do not always function on the basis of principle but become involved in their own little interests, their prejudices and bigotries and reach conclusions by the emotional rather than the rational route. The result is that they sometimes find themselves performing petty jobs for their potential enemies. Great Britain must discover the error it made by the overspeedy recognition of Red China. Just as Nehru must be wondering what will happen to India if the Kremlin takes over Egypt.

The United States thus far has not been beguiled into recognizing Red China, although it was expected that the State Department was ready this year to come up with the "two Chinas" plan which would admit Red China to the United Nations while permitting the Nationalist China to continue to hold its seat. This is a silly proposal, acceptable neither to Red China nor Nationalist China and would be rejected by both as unrealistic. However, the plan has had its advocates, particularly among those who believe that the best way to solve any problem is to follow Solomon's plan of cutting the baby in half.

However, the Egyptian and the Hungarian situations, which caught our government unaware, has soured American officialdom on Soviet Russia sufficiently so that any such proposals are not for the present. In a word, if a situation is left to the Russians, they will fowl it up to the satisfaction of their enemies.

Nevertheless there are plenty of Americans who are growing very tired over our differences with Soviet Russia and who feel that it might make the world more peaceful if we gave in to the Russians. They believe that we ought to recognize Red China to please the Kremlin and Nehru. What this comes down to is peace at any price and such a peace can only produce in the Russians

Diet and Health Avoid Constipation Through Training

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Regularity is important in avoiding constipation, a fairly common ailment in this speeded-up world of today. Good functioning of the bowels, you see, actually is a matter of proper training and habit.

Specific Time

While everyone doesn't have the same bowel habits, I advise that you set aside a specific time every day to answer nature's call. If you can't find time in the evening, get up a little earlier in the morning. And don't be tense. Try to relax.

No matter how frequent are your movements, endeavor to establish regularity.

Regularity in eating is essential, also. If you eat all three meals at regular times each day your stomach will get to know when the food is coming.

It might be well to eat about the same amount for each meal. As a rule, it isn't advisable to eat a big supper after consuming only a light breakfast and a light lunch.

To supply the necessary bulk, I suggest you eat plenty of fruits and vegetables, if you have no intestinal trouble. Eat at least two different vegetables at both lunch and supper.

Potatoes are good, too. But don't substitute them for vegetables; eat them in addition to the others.

Either fresh or cooked fruits are good. And while fruit juices are fine, your body needs the natural bulk of the fruit itself for regularity.

Although meat, eggs, fish and poultry are low in residue, you need them to maintain a properly balanced diet.

Pint of Milk

Milk also is essential. Drink at least one pint a day.

Finally, remember that laxatives are artificial means of producing bowel movements. But always avoid any large doses of laxatives of any kind.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. B.: What causes nails to break easily?

Answer: There is a condition affecting the nails that runs in families. This causes the nails to be very fragile and easily broken. No treatment has been discovered for this condition.

Sometimes, arsenic, taken internally, is helpful, but this should be taken only under the direction of a physician.

Diet and Health Avoid Constipation Through Training

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Regularity is important in avoiding constipation, a fairly common ailment in this speeded-up world of today. Good functioning of the bowels, you see, actually is a matter of proper training and habit.

Specific Time

While everyone doesn't have the same bowel habits, I advise that you set aside a specific time every day to answer nature's call. If you can't find time in the evening, get up a little earlier in the morning. And don't be tense. Try to relax.

No matter how frequent are your movements, endeavor to establish regularity.

Regularity in eating is essential, also. If you eat all three meals at regular times each day your stomach will get to know when the food is coming.

It might be well to eat about the same amount for each meal. As a rule, it isn't advisable to eat a big supper after consuming only a light breakfast and a light lunch.

To supply the necessary bulk, I suggest you eat plenty of fruits and vegetables, if you have no intestinal trouble. Eat at least two different vegetables at both lunch and supper.

Potatoes are good, too. But don't substitute them for vegetables; eat them in addition to the others.

Either fresh or cooked fruits are good. And while fruit juices are fine, your body needs the natural bulk of the fruit itself for regularity.

Although meat, eggs, fish and poultry are low in residue, you need them to maintain a properly balanced diet.

Pint of Milk

Milk also is essential. Drink at least one pint a day.

Finally, remember that laxatives are artificial means of producing bowel movements. But always avoid any large doses of laxatives of any kind.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. B.: What causes nails to break easily?

Answer: There is a condition affecting the nails that runs in families. This causes the nails to be very fragile and easily broken. No treatment has been discovered for this condition.

Sometimes, arsenic, taken internally, is helpful, but this should be taken only under the direction of a physician.

Lima Jury Convicts Man in Robbery

LIMA (AP)—Kenneth J. Orth, 25, of Marion, was convicted here Tuesday of armed robbery. Allen County Common Pleas Judge Moran B. Jenkins did not set a time for sentencing.

Orth was accused of the Dec. 10, 1954 holdup of a Lima tavern in which John R. Mooney, 22, a Korean War veteran from Lima, was murdered. An Allen County jury found Orth innocent of the slaying last July.

Israel Says Egypt To Deport Jews

JERUSALEM (AP)—An Israeli Ministry source says Egypt contemplates a mass expulsion of Jews. He said Israel plans to protest to the United Nations.

Egypt has made no announcement of any expulsion order and has denied a British Foreign Office report that 13,000 British nationals and 5,000 holders of French passports would be deported from Egypt. Estimates here put the number of Jews still in Egypt at 50,000.

Egyptian Information Director Abdel Kader Hatem said British and French nationals had been "put under restricted residence for a time" to safeguard them from angry Egyptians. He said they were "being allowed to leave Egypt if they want to."

2 Airlines Entering Bids For Short Hauls in Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lake Central and North Central Airlines made rival bids before the Civil Aeronautics Board Tuesday for a route between Detroit and Lima, through Toledo.

Lake Central contended that Kokomo, Marion and Lafayette, Ind., and Marion, Ohio, need the one-plane service to and from Detroit that Lake Central proposes if awarded a Lima-Detroit extension.

North Central said its proposal offers better commuting flights for Detroit, Lima and Toledo businessmen and that this should be the "paramount consideration" of the board.

Atty. A. L. Grissard, for Lake Central, and Donald Rushford, for North Central, expressed these views in oral arguments.

The board also heard in support of Lake Central's application arguments by city and trade association representatives from Lima, Toledo, Detroit, the state of Ohio and aeronautics commission of Indiana. Spokesmen for Sens, Capehart and Jenner and Reps. Hal-leck, Brownson and Beamer, all Indiana Republicans and Rep. Mc-Culloch (R-Ohio) also backed Lake Central.

A CAB examiner has recommended that the route be given to Lake Central. Rushford said the examiner erred in his estimates of the cost of providing the service and the number of passengers that would fly the route.

Correct estimates would show that North Central could carry more passengers at less cost to the government, Rushford said.

Grissard said that Lake Central would not need "one penny" subsidy for the proposed route, although a CAB attorney has estimated that Lake Central would require $97,000 for the first year's operation. Despite this, the CAB attorney also recommended Lake Central's proposal on the ground that the cities need the service.

Rushford said the Lima-Detroit route should be awarded to North Central pending the outcome of an investigation by the board of local service routes throughout the Great Lakes area. The board will consider the other Indiana and Ohio cities' requirements in that case, Rushford said.

20 Refugees Shot By Red Soldiers

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Hungarian soldiers escaping to Austria saw the bodies of 20 refugees who had been shot in the woods near the border, the Austrian press agency reports.

The Austrian Cabinet was informed that 2,562 more refugees escaped into this little country Monday night, bringing the total close to 90,000 since Hungary's freedom revolt began.

The Austrian press agency, reporting the shooting of those seeking to escape, quoted refugees as saying the Russians refused to permit the burial of the 20 bodies seen in the woods. The Russians apparently hoped the sight would frighten other refugees and cause them to turn back from the border.

Colds are more frequent among women than men, a large insurance company reports.

20 Refugees Shot By Red Soldiers

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Hungarians escaping to Austria saw the bodies of 20 refugees who had been shot in the woods near the border, the Austrian press agency reports.

The Austrian Cabinet was informed that 2,562 more refugees escaped into this little country Monday night, bringing the total close to 90,000 since Hungary's freedom revolt began.

The Austrian press agency, reporting the shooting of those seeking to escape, quoted refugees as saying the Russians refused to permit the burial of the 20 bodies in the woods. The Russians apparently hoped the sight would frighten other refugees and cause them to turn back from the border.

THE CHRISTMAS TREE

According to the U. S. D. A. the Christmas Tree went through a long period of development. Some historians trace the Christmas Tree back to Martin Luther (1483-1546). The story is that while strolling on the countryside one Christmas Eve under a brilliant starlit sky, his thoughts turned to the Nativity of the Christ child. Luther was impressed with the beauty of the heavens and the wintry landscape. He observed the snow-flecked evergreen trees sparkling in the moonlight. Returning home, he related the experience to his family and attempted to reproduce the outside scene. To a small evergreen tree he attached lighted candles to simulate the reflection of the starlit heaven. The heaven that looked down over Bethlehem on the First Christmas Eve.

That would date the first lighted Christmas Tree prior to 1546. From then until about 1700 the Christmas Tree custom appears to have been confined to the Rhine River district. But it was firmly established in most of Europe early in 1800, and the Hessian soldiers had a Christmas Tree in Fort Dearborn, Illinois in 1804.

From Luther's time, the spirit behind the Christmas Tree has never changed. But the tree itself has, in keeping with the times, become more beautiful. We hope that you will have time to stop in and inspect our Christmas Trees for 1956 - an innovation.

THE CHRISTMAS TREE
According to the U. S. D. A. the Christmas Tree went through a long period of development. Some historians trace the Christmas Tree back to Martin Luther (1483-1546). The story is that while strolling on the countryside one Christmas Eve under a brilliant starlit sky, his thoughts turned to the Nativity of the Christ child. Luther was impressed with the beauty of the heavens and the wintery landscape. He observed the snow-flecked evergreen trees sparkling in the moonlight. Returning home, he related the experience to his family and attempted to reproduce the outside scene. To a small evergreen tree he attached lighted candles to simulate the reflection of the starlit heaven.
The heaven that looked down over Bethlehem on the First Christmas Eve.
That would date the first lighted Christmas Tree prior to 1546. From then until about 1700 the Christmas Tree custom appears to have been confined to the Rhine River district. But it was firmly established in most of Europe early in 1800, and the Hessian soldiers had a Christmas Tree in Fort Dearborn, Illinois in 1804.
From Luther's time, the spirit behind the Christmas Tree has never changed. But the tree itself has, in keeping with the times, become more beautiful. We hope that you will have time to stop in and inspect our Christmas Trees for 1956 - an innovation.

County Group Studies Possibility Of Classes for Retarded Children

Local civic, educational, and church leaders are investigating the possibility of starting one or more special classes here for the approximately 25 to 30 retarded children in Fayette County.

The Business and Professional Women's Club plans to assist with the program, according to Miss Mary Francis Snider, president of the group.

Tuesday a group of interested persons met in the Probate Courtroom with Dr. Roderick N. Purcell, director of special education for the state Division of Mental Hygiene. Dr. Purcell explained the work of his department, and told his audience how they can go about setting up the special classes and how they may receive state financial support in the endeavor.

The speaker, a psychologist and former teacher, said that Ohio has the most advanced program in the country for retarded children, with more than 170 special classes in 50 counties. About 115 of these classes receive state aid.

PRESENT requirements limit the number of retarded students eligible for such classes, but Dr. Purcell pointed out that the State Legislature is interested in the program, and rules will become more flexible as more money is allocated to the division.

In order to be eligible for state aid, classes must have between eight and 12 children, usually with an age range of not more than five years.

The children must be unacceptable in normal public schools, must have a mental age of about 3, an intelligent quotient (IQ) of 50 or below, and must have acceptable home training. Children are required to be under 15 years of age.

ed to undergo medical and psychological tests before being admitted to the classes.

Eligible children are usually at least 6 years old, and never more than 21. At present, crippled children are not acceptable, although, Dr. Purcell said, this rule is expected to be changed as the program progresses.

THE TERMS, "mentally deficient," "retarded," and "handicapped" often are used interchangeably, the doctor remarked. These children may be found in any kind of home, regardless of socio-economic status and other environmental factors.

"It is not realistic to think that such classes will teach children to read, write, and do arithmetic," the speaker said. "However, they can be made more socially mature, and perhaps, even be taught to do simple manual work such as assembling simple mechanisms."

Dr. Purcell illustrated many of his points with examples drawn from classes now in progress. He described how one group of handicapped children has been taught to stuff envelopes and is getting paid for the work.

The speaker also read letters from parents of retarded children, describing how their children have improved from such classes, and stating that it made it easier for the disabled youngsters to fit in better with the rest of the family, particularly when there are normal youngsters in the house.

Some parents remarked that their retarded children had better manners than his or her normal brother or sister.

DR. PURCELL felt that Fayette County has at least one potential class for retarded children, and possibly more. However, there are many problems to be faced in organizing a class, such as selecting a teacher, finding a classroom, and obtaining financial support.

While the Division of Mental Hygiene may provide as much as $200 per child for each nine-month term, and later may be able to provide as much as $3,600 for a class unit of 12 children, the money is not allocated until after the term has been successfully completed to the satisfaction of Dr. Purcell and his staff.

The operation of a class usually costs from $5,000 to $6,000, (for a nine-month class) and county commissioners and local school boards often help to make up the difference with their funds. However, such payments are voluntary, not compulsory.

The typical teacher for this program, according to Dr. Purcell is a 44-year-old woman, with a college education and some previous teaching experience. Teachers do not have to be college graduates, but if they do not have degrees, they are required to attend college courses while teaching. Their salaries range from a minimum of $2,600 up to over $3,000 for the nine-month program.

AMONG THOSE present at the discussion were Judge Robert Brubaker of the Probate Court; Mrs. Pauline Swope, executive secretary of the Welfare Board; Mrs. Gail Bay, of the Welfare Board staff; Mrs. Ruth Wientjes of the Health Department; County Commissioner Robert Cockerill; W. A. Smith, superintendent of city schools; W. J. Hilty, superintendent of county schools; Miss Hattie Pinkerton, a visiting teacher; the Rev. L. J. Poe of Grace Methodist Church; the Rev. Father Richard J. Connelly of St. Colman's Catholic Church; Mrs. Harmon Welty, head of the Crippled Children's Society; Health Commissioner, Dr. Benton V. D. Scott and Miss Marie Marchant and Mrs. June Ramey of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Brucellosis Testing Moves Ahead Rapidly

After four days of operating the brucellosis milk ring test in Fayette County, a total of 296 herds have been tested, representing 4,509 cattle. "Everybody connected with the program is gratified with the progress of the work and hopes are that the milk ring test can be completed this week," County Agent W. W. Montgomery said Wednesday.

Results of the testing to date give 271 herds with 4,144 cattle as negative to the brucellosis milk ring test.

Twenty-five herds with 363 head of cattle showed up as suspects. This means that probably not more than one or two head of cattle in each herd may show up as a positive reactor when the blood test is made.

The fact that only 25 suspect herds are showing at the present time, which is less than 10 per cent of the herds currently tested, means a very small figure, Montgomery said. Most counties run from 20 to 25 per cent of suspect herds in the first test made in the county.

HERD OWNERS are being informed of the results of the tests

County Group Studies Possibility Of Classes for Retarded Children

Local civic, educational, and church leaders are investigating the possibility of starting one or more special classes here for the approximately 25 to 30 retarded children in Fayette County.

The Business and Professional Women's Club plans to assist with the program, according to Miss Mary Francis Snider, president of the group.

Tuesday a group of interested persons met in the Probate Courtroom with Dr. Roderick N. Purcell, director of special education for the state Division of Mental Hygiene. Dr. Purcell explained the work of his department, and told his audience how they can go about setting up the special classes and how they may receive state financial support in the endeavor.

The speaker, a psychologist and former teacher, said that Ohio has the most advanced program in the country for retarded children, with more than 170 special classes in 50 counties. About 115 of these classes receive state aid.

PRESENT requirements limit the number of retarded students eligible for such classes, but Dr. Purcell pointed out that the State Legislature is interested in the program, and rules will become more flexible as more money is allocated to the division.

In order to be eligible for state aid, classes must have between eight and 12 children, usually with an age range of not more than five years.

The children must be unacceptable in normal public schools, must have a mental age of about 3, an intelligent quotient (IQ) of 50 or below, and must have acceptable home training. Children are required

ed to undergo medical and psychological tests before being admitted to the classes.

Eligible children are usually at least 6 years old, and never more than 21. At present, crippled children are not acceptable, although, Dr. Purcell said, this rule is expected to be changed as the program progresses.

THE TERMS, "mentally deficient," "retarded," and "handicapped" often are used interchangeably, the doctor remarked. These children may be found in any kind of home, regardless of socio-economic status and other environmental factors.

"It is not realistic to think that such classes will teach children to read, write, and do arithmetic," the speaker said. "However, they can be made more socially mature, and perhaps, even be taught to do simple manual work such as assembling simple mechanisms."

Dr. Purcell illustrated many of his points with examples drawn from classes now in progress. He described how one group of handicapped children has been taught to stuff envelopes and is getting paid for the work.

The speaker also read letters from parents of retarded children, describing how their children have improved from such classes, and stating that it made it easier for the disabled youngsters to fit in better with the rest of the family, particularly when there are normal youngsters in the house.

Some parents remarked that their retarded children had better manners than his or her normal brother or sister.

DR. PURCELL felt that Fayette County has at least one potential class for retarded children, and possibly more. However, there are many problems to be faced in organizing a class, such as selecting a teacher, finding a classroom, and obtaining financial support.

While the Division of Mental Hygiene may provide as much as $200 per child for each nine-month term, and later may be able to provide as much as $3,600 for a class unit of 12 children, the money is not allocated until after the term has been successfully completed to the satisfaction of Dr. Purcell and his staff.

The operation of a class usually costs from $5,000 to $6,000 (for a nine-month class) and county commissioners and local school boards often help to make up the difference with their funds. However, such payments are voluntary, not compulsory.

The typical teacher for this program, according to Dr. Purcell is a 44-year-old woman, with a college education and some previous teaching experience. Teachers do not have to be college graduates, but if they do not have degrees, they are required to attend college courses while teaching. Their salaries range from a minimum of $2,600 up to over $3,000 for the nine-month program.

AMONG THOSE present at the discussion were Judge Robert Brubaker of the Probate Court; Mrs. Pauline Swope, executive secretary of the Welfare Board; Mrs. Gail Bay, of the Welfare Board staff; Mrs. Ruth Wientjes of the Health Department; County Commissioner Robert Cockerill; W. A. Smith, superintendent of city schools; W. J. Hilly, superintendent of county schools; Miss Hattie Pinkerton, a visiting teacher; the Rev. L. J. Poe of Grace Methodist Church; the Rev. Father Richard J. Connolly of St. Colman's Catholic Church; Mrs. Harmon Welty, head of the Crippled Childrens Society; Health Commissioner, Dr. Benton V. D. Scott and Miss Marie Marchant and Mrs. June Ramey of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Dr. Norris Wilson, executive director of Church World Service, announced the relief campaign Tuesday after his return from a visit to Austrian refugee centers.

Church World Service is the overseas relief arm of the National Council of Churches. Most of the large Protestant denominations are council members.

Toothbrush Chuted To South Pole

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (U—) An 8-ton tractor and a toothbrush floated gently down to the South Pole today.

They were dropped from an Air Force Globemaster to 19 Americans building a U. S. scientific outpost at the south end of the world for use in the International Geophysical Year program.

The tractor, dropped on three 100-foot parachutes from 2,000 feet, will be used to speed their construction efforts.

The toothbrush, wrapped in a towel and tied to a bundle of oil drums, will be used by T. Sgt. Richard J. Patton, 31-year-old St. Louisian who made history's first parachute jump to the pole Sunday. He radioed back that he had forgotten to pack his toothbrush.

Newlyweds Held In Drug Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U—) Columbus police arrested a newlywed couple Tuesday night for questioning in the alleged smuggling of drugs into Ohio Penitentiary.

Arrested were Robert Dean King, 26, a penitentiary parolee and a wholesale drug firm employee, and his wife, Lola Virginia, 22. They were married seven weeks ago. Penitentiary guard Olen E. Roshon, 54, of Basil, was arrested last week when he arrived for work. Police said they found several hundred pills and capsules of two mild drugs in his lunch box.

He was bound to the Franklin County Grand Jury on a charge of illegally conveying drugs into the penitentiary.

Brucellosis Testing Moves Ahead Rapidly

After four days of operating the brucellosis milk ring test in Fayette County, a total of 296 herds have been tested, representing 4,509 cattle. "Everybody connected with the program is gratified with the progress of the work and hopes are that the milk ring test can be completed this week," County Agent W. W. Montgomery said Wednesday.

Results of the testing to date give 271 herds with 4,144 cattle as negative to the brucellosis milk ring test.

Twenty-five herds with 363 head of cattle showed up as suspects. This means that probably not more than one or two head of cattle in each herd may show up as a positive reactor when the blood test is made.

The fact that only 25 suspect herds are showing at the present time, which is less than 10 per cent of the herds currently tested, means a very small figure, Montgomery said. Most counties run from 20 to 25 per cent of suspect herds in the first test made in the county.

HERD OWNERS are being informed of the results of the tests

U. S. Pockets 18th Medal at Olympic Tests

Parry O'Brien Chalks World Record as Shot Soars over 60 Feet

MELBOURNE (AP)—Uncle Sam's powerful Olympic team boosted its gold medal total to 18 today with a sweep in the 110-meter hurdles behind surprising Lee Calhoun and Parry O'Brien's record shot put. But Russia's Vladimir Kouts matched Bobby Morrow's double by winning his second distance run.

Calhoun, a lanky North Carolina College student from Gary, Ind., whipped Jack Davis of Glendale, Calif., the world record holder, in a blanket finish. Joel Shankle of Durham, N.C., grabbed the bronze medal for third. It was so close both Calhoun and Davis were clocked in 13.5 seconds, beating Harrison Dillard's 1952 Olympic record of 13.7.

O'Brien did the expected by repeating his Helsinki triumph in the shot put. The young giant from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., shattered his own Olympic record with each of his six tosses and finally settled for a new mark of 60 feet 11 inches. Both Bill Nieder of Lawrence, Kan., with 59-7 3/4 and Jiri Skobla of Czechoslovakia with 57-10 3/4 topped the old standard while finishing second and third. So did Ken Bantum of New York, with 57-4 for fourth place.

The U. S. missed a potential sweep in the shotput but the 1-2-3 finish in the hurdles was its fourth of the Olympics, duplicating America's efforts in the 200-meters, 400-meter hurdles and discus.

Russia enjoyed its greatest day with four gold medals for a total of 10 with Kouts' victory in the 5,000-meter, its first sweep in the 20-kilometer walk, Inessa Iouren's winning effort in the women's javelin and a come-from-behind success in the modern pentathlon team competition.

In the day's competition, Russia outscored the U. S. 64-4 but the unofficial point table still showed Uncle Sam out front of Russia, 306-214.

Another capacity crowd of 100,000 thrilled to a second Australian gold medal in women's track when Shirley Strickland de la Hunty skinned over the 80-meter hurdles in 10.7 seconds, breaking the accepted world record to repeat her Helsinki victory of four years ago. The three American girls had been eliminated in the heats.

Sweden snatched the other gold medal awarded on this brisk day when Lars Hall also repeated his 1952 triumph in the individual phase of the modern pentathlon. The teams and individuals finished the five-event competition with the 4,000-meter cross country run.

The American pentathlon team was second to Russia after leading through the earlier events and George Lambert of Sioux City, Ia. was fifth among the individuals. Bill Andre of Montclair, N. J. was seventh and Jack Daniels of Missoula, Mont. 13th.

Lou Jones of New Rochelle N. Y., America's best bet speed home first in two heats of the 400-meter to qualify for Thursday's semifinals and finals along with Charlie Jenkins of Villanova and Cambridge, Mass. However, the third American, Jim Lea of San Jose, CALIF. WAS eliminated when he came in fifth in the third heat of the second round. Jones' times were 48.1 seconds and 47.4, about two seconds off the record.

The U. S. team had won 11 of the first 17 events in men's track and field with seven more to go. It has potential winners in the decathlon starting tomorrow, the 400-meters and the two hurdles Saturday. The steeplechase, 400-meters, opening of the decathlon and the first heats in both men's and women's swimming are important events on the Thursday schedule.

Substitute Guessert Picks Navy, Texas A&M for Wins

By DON WEISS (For Harold Claassen's)

NEW YORK (AP)—Claassen's carriers got through from the Fiji Islands with his packet of football picks last week but this time — well, just too much going on in Melbourne where Harold J. is reporting the new American gold rush.

So here goes with the choices for the wrapup weekend of the collegiate season in a program dipped in tradition:

Texas A&M over Texas — This one's on Thursday, Thanksgiving Day in Texas by order of the governor. A week late on the Texas calendar, it's not late enough for the Longhorns.

Navy over Army — What else from an old deck swab? Address all complaints c-o Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Tennessee over Vanderbilt — The Volunteers are sure of a major bowl invitation but that national ranking duel with Oklahoma will ward off any letdown.

Georgia Tech over Georgia — Bowl time is approaching and that's when Bobby Dodd and Tech embargo defeat.

Southern California over Notre Dame — The Trojans have been an annual threat even to Notre Dame's good teams. Paul Hornung's thumbs have the Irish aching all over.

Texas Christian over Southern Methodist — Remember 'way back two and a half months ago when SMU's victory over Notre Dame was hailed as a "great upset?" Miami over Florida — The Hurricanes remained unpardoned, uninvited — and unbeaten.

Clemson over Furman — Clemson sorely needs a "prestige" victory to calm the tremors the Orange Bowl folks have about the Tigers representing the Atlantic Coast Conference on New Year's Day. What they can't get in prestige, they'll be after in point-spread.

Others: Auburn over Alabama, Baylor over Rice, Boston College over Holy Cross, Missouri over Kansas, Tulane over Louisiana State, Mississippi over Mississippi State, Houston over Detroit, Texas Tech over Hardin — Simmons, Colorado A&M over New Mexico and San Jose State over Hawaii.

Jeffersonville Loses To Clarksville, 76-68

Jeffersonville's Tigers ran into a red hot bunch of sharpshooters at Clarksville Tuesday night and lost their second game of the still young basketball season by a score of 76 to 68.

Although the Tigers were hitting the hoops at a 46 per cent clip, which is good enough to win most games, they could not match the 50 per cent accuracy of the Clarksville cagers.

Wysong, 6-3, and Osborn, 6-2, spearheaded the Clarksville attack with fairly close jump shots from the side. Wysong tallied 23 points and Osborn 22.

Jim Smith, with 14 points, and Manford Sizemore, with 17, using long shots from the outside, and Roger Mason, with 19, and Alva Hanners, with 12, alternating at the pivot, paced the well balanced offense of the Tigers.

The Jeffersonville club made a race of it through the first half and trailed by only 4 points at the intermission. But, the Clarksville boys put on a scoring surge in the third period that wrapped up the game.

Jeffersonville's reserves added their fifth victory without a defeat when they beat Clarksville Reserves, 43 to 42, in a double-overtime sudden death thriller in the preliminary.

Ron Wilt, using a close-in jump, and Jim Cook, firing at long range, were high scorers. Wilt netted 13 points and Cook 12.

Yes, Woody Gets To Stay at OSU

CLEVELAND (AP)—Richard C. Larkins, Ohio State University athletic director, says Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes definitely will be back next year.

Larkins Tuesday night passed off the defeats at the hands of Iowa and Michigan—the last two games of the season—and remarked that the university became "more dignified in losing even though it hurts."

The 1956 World Series marked the first time that the winning team's pitchers turned in five straight complete games.

Cleveland Set To Host Pan-Am

MELBOURNE (AP)—Fourteen Pan-American nations today were told Cleveland has $10 million to hold the 1959 Pan-American games in the Ohio city.

James Lee, chairman of the Cleveland Pan-Am Organizing Committee, made the report at a special luncheon attended by high athletic officials.

Lee told the gathering Cleveland had a grant of $5 million from the federal government. He added the county has ordered a bond issue of $3 1/2 million and the city of Cleveland has ordered a bond issue for $1 1/2 million to assure success of the games.

Indians To Name New Pilot Today

CLEVELAND (AP)—The general manager of the Cleveland Indians will name the club's new manager at a press conference tonight.

Hank Greenberg, the general manager, told a reporter Tuesday he picked his man two weeks ago. Mentioned prominently as a possible successor to Al Lopez is Kerby Farrell, named minor league manager of the year after his Indianapolis Indians swept baseball's little World Series last season. Lopez is now manager of the Chicago White Sox.

Army Preps For Joust With Middies

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Tension mounts at West Point as the underdog Army team completes preparations for its annual football classic against Navy.

Earl (Red) Blaik, gridiron genius of this Hudson River fortress, is giving his players the final battle plan for "operation upset" amidst tight military security.

The off-injured Cadets, in their best physical condition this year, are working behind the well-patrolled gates of Michie Stadium. Normally, they would drill within the canvas enclosure of the practice field on the Plains which form the main part of the campus.

Navy has lost only one game and tied another of its eight to date and is the favorite in Saturday's service struggle before a sellout 100,000 in Philadelphia.

But you can't find a cadet who will be convinced the Middies are the choice.

In support of their team which has a 5-3 record, the gray-clad cadet Army companies try to outdo each other in chants of "Go Army, Beat Navy" while they assemble in the barracks areas prior to marching to the dining hall. But when the Middies issued a challenge to bet bathtubs on the outcome, only about 500 cadets responded.

Mount Sterling Tops Madison Mills, 61-35

Mount Sterling's cagers handed the Warriors from Madison Mills a 61 to 35 defeat Tuesday night. It was the fourth loss in five games for the Warriors.

Scoring was well spread among the Warriors, but Ken Mercer, hitting consistently with jump shots from the corners, set the pace.

Siels, high scorer for Mount Sterling, accounted for 21 points with lay-ups on drive-ins off of the fast break.

The Madison Mills Reserves kept their record clean and added the fifth win in a row when they trounced the Mount Sterling reserves, 32 to 17, in the evening's opener. Hershel Williams, with 12 points, and Bob Belt, usually the team's pacemaker, with 9, were the high scorers.

Boosters to Study Pony Football at Meeting Wednesday

John W. Milburn, president of the Newcomerstown Booster Club, will address the Washington C. H. Booster Club at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the Dayton Power and Light Auditorium as the group meets to discuss pony football.

Pony football is played by younger grade school students and has been successful in Newcomerstown this past season. Milburn has been active in organizing the league there.

The speaker will answer questions and also plans to show color movies of the pony league all-star game in his hometown.

A final financial report also is slated for the meeting.

Spieser Favored To Trip German

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Chuck Spieser of Detroit is favored to defeat Germany's Willie Hoepner in a scheduled 10 round meeting of title-conscious light heavyweights in the Milwaukee Arena tonight.

Spieser, with less action to his credit than Hoepner, is given the edge because of his power and polish. He rates as the No. 1 contender behind lighthweight champion Archie Moore. Hoepner is No. 6 in the ratings. The bout will be televised at 10 p. m.

Moore will bid for the heavyweight championship Friday night in Chicago against Floyd Patterson. If Moore wins the vacant heavyweight crown the victor in tonight's bout here will be in a position to demand attention in the elimination series leading to the lighthweight title.

Iowa Quarterback Wins Week's Title

CHICAGO (AP)—Kenny Ploen, the fellow who puts the "go" in the attack that led Iowa to the Big Ten championship and a Rose Bowl berth, was chosen Associated Press Back of the Week today in the final accounting of the football season.

Ploen had a direct hand in four touchdowns and directed the drive to another last Saturday as Iowa wound up its best season in 35 years with a 48-8 victory over Notre Dame.

When his busy afternoon's work was over, the Hawkeye quarterback had scored on runs of 10 and 41 yards, passed 23 yards to another, and set up a fourth.

Dick Aloise, junior end from Rensselaer, N. Y., also is a member of the Syracuse University basketball team.

Aging Archie Picked To Win By Knockout

CHICAGO (AP)—Former champion Joe Louis picks Archie Moore to beat Floyd Patterson in their heavyweight title bout in Chicago Stadium Friday night and the Brown Bomber thinks Moore will win by a knockout.

Louis is one of many former titleholders to pick ancient Archie in the fight which will be nationally televised and is expected to draw 18,000 cash customers.

Joey Maxim, who lost the light heavyweight title to Moore and failed to regain it in two tries, is the only man to have beaten Patterson in his 31 fights. And Maxim favors Moore.

Rocky Marciano, who knocked out Moore in September, 1955 and then called it quits, also chooses the 39-year-old Moore.

Louis passed out samples of his recording "You Can Run but You Can't Hide" to reporters and then predicted Moore will win by a knockout.

Patterson at 21 could become the youngest heavyweight champion in history. Louis won his title at 23 when he knocked out Jimmy Braddock in 1937.

"I don't think I was at my best when I won the championship," Patterson said. "I'd say I reached my peak between 25 and 26. Experience will be against Patterson, you know."

Moore put in a sluggish three rounds Tuesday and will wind up his sparring sessions today. Patterson will finish up with road work.

Dennis Mendyk, Michigan State halfback, averaged 15.7 yards for 10 carries in the 1956 Notre Dame game.

Dottie's Pick Wins Top Pacing Laurels

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—The West's Dottie's Pick ranks today as the champion pacer of 1956 after scoring an easy victory over Adios Harry, the eastern champ, in a $25,000 winner-take-all match race at Yonkers Raceway.

The west against the east challenge was never in doubt Tuesday night as Dottie's Pick, driven by Del Miller, was sent to the front immediately and was never headed in winning by eleven lengths. Time for the mile over a soft strip classified as "good" was 2:06.

Jeffersonville's Tigers ran into a red hot bunch of sharpshooters at Clarksville Tuesday night and lost their second game of the still young basketball season by a score of 76 to 68.

Although the Tigers were hitting the hoops at a 46 per cent clip, which is good enough to win most games, they could not match the 50 per cent accuracy of the Clarksville cagers.

Wysong, 6-3, and Osborn, 6-2, spearheaded the Clarksville attack with fairly close jump shots from the side. Wysong tallied 23 points and Osborn 22.

Jim Smith, with 14 points, and Manford Sizemore, with 17, using long shots from the outside, and Roger Mason, with 19, and Alva Hanners, with 12, alternating at the pivot, paced the well balanced offense of the Tigers.

The Jeffersonville club made a race of it through the first half and trailed by only 4 points at the intermission. But, the Clarksville boys put on a scoring surge in the third period that wrapped up the game.

Jeffersonville's reserves added their fifth victory without a defeat when they beat Clarksville Reserves, 43 to 42, in a double-outside sudden death thriller in the preliminary.

Ron Wilt, using a close-in jump, and Jim Cook, firing at long range, were high scorers. Wilt netted 15 points and Cook 12.

Yes, Woody Gets To Stay at OSU

CLEVELAND (AP)—Richard C. Larkins, Ohio State University athletic director, says Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes definitely will be back next year.

Larkins Tuesday night passed off the defeats at the hands of Iowa and Michigan—the last two games of the season—and remarked that the university became "more dignified in losing even though it hurts."

The 1956 World Series marked the first time that the winning team's pitchers turned in five straight complete games.

Cleveland Set To Host Pan-Am

MELBOURNE (AP)—Fourteen Pan-American nations today were told Cleveland has $10 million to hold the 1959 Pan-American games in the Ohio city.

James Lee, chairman of the Cleveland Pan - Am Organizing Committee, made the report at a special luncheon attended by high athletic officials.

Lee told the gathering Cleveland had a grant of $5 million from the federal government. He added the county has ordered a bond issue of $3 1/2 million and the city of Cleveland has ordered a bond issue for $1 1/2 million to assure success of the games.

Indians To Name New Pilot Today

CLEVELAND (AP)—The general manager of the Cleveland Indians will name the club's new manager at a press conference tonight.

Hank Greenberg, the general manager, told a reporter Tuesday he picked his man two weeks ago. Mentioned prominently as a possible successor to Al Lopez is Kirby Farrell, named minor league manager of the year after his Indianapolis Indians swept baseball's little World Series last season. Lopez is now manager of the Chicago White Sox.

4 Teams in Line For Cotton Bowl

DALLAS (AP)—Four teams — Navy, Tennessee, Georgia Tech and Syracuse — will furnish the visiting team in the Cotton Bowl and the selection will be made Saturday. Home team will be Texas Christian.

Navy (6-1-1) plays Army at Philadelphia Saturday while Tennessee (9-0) clashes with Vanderbilt at Nashville and Georgia Tech (8-1) plays Georgia at Athens, Ga. Syracuse has already finished the season with a 7-1 record.

Army Preps For Joust With Middies

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Tension mounts at West Point as the underdog Army team completes preparations for its annual football classic against Navy.

Earl (Red) Blaik, gridiron genius of this Hudson River fortress, is giving his players the final battle plan for "operation upset" amidst tight military security.

The oft-injured Cadets, in their best physical condition this year, are working behind the well-patrolled gates of Michie Stadium. Normally, they would drill within the canvas enclosure of the practice field on the Plains which form the main part of the campus.

Navy has lost only one game and tied another of its eight to date and is the favorite in Saturday's service struggle before a sellout 100,000 in Philadelphia.

But you can't find a cadet who will be convinced the Middies are the choice.

In support of their team which has a 5-3 record, the gray-clad cadet Army companies try to out-do each other in chants of "Go Army, Beat Navy" while they assemble in the barracks areas prior to marching to the dining hall. But when the Middies issued a challenge to bet bathrobes on the outcome, only about 500 cadets responded.

Mount Sterling Tops Madison Mills, 61-35

Mount Sterling's cagers handed the Warriors from Madison Mills a 61 to 35 defeat Tuesday night. It was the fourth loss in five games for the Warriors.

Once the two teams got going after a fairly close first period, the Mount Sterling outfit pulled steadily out in front.

Scoring was well spread among the Warriors, but Ken Mercer, hitting consistently with jump shots from the corners, set the pace.

Siels, high scorer for Mount Sterling, accounted for 21 points with lay-ups on drive-ins off of the fast break.

The Madison Mills Reserves kept their record clean and added the fifth win in a row when they trounced the Mount Sterling Reserves, 32 to 17, in the evening's opener. Hershel Williams, with 12 points, and Bob Belt, usually the team's pacemaker, with 9, were the high scorers.

Boosters to Study Pony Football at Meeting Wednesday

John W. Milburn, president of the Newcomerstown Booster Club, will address the Washington C. H. Booster Club at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the Dayton Power and Light Auditorium as the group meets to discuss pony football.

Pony football is played by younger grade school students and has been successful in Newcomerstown this past season. Milburn has been active in organizing the league there.

The speaker will answer questions and also plans to show color movies of the pony league all-star game in his hometown.

The main objective of the sport is to teach teamwork and sportsmanship, with football fundamental coming second.

A final financial report also is slated for the meeting.

Spieser Favored To Trip German

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Chuck Spieser of Detroit is favored to defeat Germany's Willie Hoepner in a scheduled 10 round meeting of title-conscious light heavyweights in the Milwaukee Arena tonight.

Spieser, with less action to his credit than Hoepner, is given the edge because of his power and polish. He rates as the No. 1 contender behind lightweight champion Archie Moore. Hoepner is No. 6 in the ratings. The bout will be televised at 10 p. m.

Moore will bid for the heavyweight championship Friday night in Chicago against Floyd Patterson. If Moore wins the vacant heavyweight crown the victor in tonight's bout here will be in a position to demand attention in the elimination series leading to the lightweight title.

Iowa Quarterback Wins Week's Title

CHICAGO (AP)—Kenny Ploen, the fellow who puts the "go" in the attack that led Iowa to the Big Ten championship and a Rose Bowl berth, was chosen Associated Press Back of the Week today in the final accounting of the football season.

Ploen had a direct hand in four touchdowns and directed the drive to another last Saturday as Iowa wound up its best season in 35 years with a 48-8 victory over Notre Dame.

When his busy afternoon's work was over, the Hawkeye quarterback had scored on runs of 10 and 41 yards, passed 23 yards to another, and set up a fourth.

Dick Aloise, junior end from Rensselaer, N. Y., also is a member of the Syracuse University basketball team.

Aging Archie Picked To Win By Knockout

CHICAGO (AP)—Former champion Joe Louis picks Archie Moore to beat Floyd Patterson in their heavyweight title bout in Chicago Stadium Friday night and the Brown Bomber thinks Moore will win by a knockout.

Louis is one of many former titleholders to pick ancient Archie in the fight which will be nationally televised and is expected to draw 18,000 cash customers.

Joey Maxim, who lost the light heavyweight title to Moore and failed to regain it in two tries, is the only man to have beaten Patterson in his 31 fights. And Maxim favors Moore.

Rocky Marciano, who knocked out Moore in September, 1955 and then called it quits, also chooses the 39-year-old Moore.

Louis passed out samples of his recording "You Can Run but You Can't Hide"

Whole Families in Toledo Interested In Art Museum

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Knock on any door in Toledo, and the odds are good that someone in the house has been to the Toledo Museum of Art as a student or a visitor.

The answer is one of the most extensive education programs ever carried on by an art museum. Officials of the museum are proving that the best way to a man's artistic interest is through his children.

Every Saturday, 1,800 Toledo school children stream into the museum for free classes in which they paint, sculpture or follow a variety of other artistic bent. Pretty soon in comes Dad. The kids go home with a lot of gab about Rembrandt and perspective and old Dad has got to get culture or lose respect in his own household.

Not infrequently, he stays on to sign up for a paid evening, course himself. Mom may be there, too, on a weekday afternoon, dabbling away at a canvas with her house-keeping cares far behind her. "Our education program," said Associate Director Otto Wittman Jr., "has given us one of the most satisfying attendance records in the history of American museums."

Over the last several years, the annual "front door-count" attendance at the museum has roughly paralleled the population of Toledo. Last year, the guard who keeps track of attendance clicked his counting machine 304,597 times, almost enough for one visit by every man, woman and child in the city.

Wittman said the education approach to developing interest in art is not unique to the Toledo museum. "Indeed, it's the very backbone of American museums as a group."

In Europe, he explained, many of the museums got their start in the 18th century when old royal collections became public property. Thus, he said, those museums often had large and valuable collections in hand at their very opening.

In America, however, the oldest museums date back only about 75 years. When they opened, they had a comparatively few pieces and their problem was to stimulate interest so that money could be raised to buy more.

The founders of the American museums included many educators who felt that the only way to interest this young nation in museums was to teach it to love art. So that's the way they went at it, guided by practical necessity.

Diversity of Oil Products Explained at BPW Meeting

'Unpacking the Magic Suitcase' was the theme of the talk given by Miss Jean Smith of the Pure Oil Co., Columbus, when she appeared before the Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday night.

She explained that oil lends many aids to the fashion designer in the way of dyes that are selective of the fabrics. In one dye bath a white piece of material containing cotton, silk and synthetic fabric appeared red, white and blue. In jewelry, the Lucite is derived from oil products as are plastics and baby oil. Cosmetics are now packaged in polyethylene containers, a derivative of the oil industry.

Modern refrigeration is also a byproduct. Miss Smith demonstrated by freezing a flower in seconds with the refrigerating solution.

Detergents, waxes, disinfectants in the kitchen—all final products of the great oil business, Miss Smith said.

More than 50 million maps are given away yearly by the oil industry and the ink used in printing them contain oil products, the speaker added.

GIVING a brief history of the beginning of the oil industry, Miss Smith told of the first oil well drilled in Pennsylvania over a hundred years ago. The first oil, she explained, was distilled and the gasoline derivative was discarded as useless.

More than a million people are employed in the industry, from the drillers to the research chemists.

Miss Smith represented the Oil Industry Information Committee, a non-profit organization sponsored by the oil companies to promote interest in the increasing use of the products made possible through the competition and striving for better products under the system of free enterprise.

MISS Mary Frances Snider conducted a short business meeting at the close of the program.

Mrs. Coyt Stookey presented a musical program, singing "Into the Night," "Pale Moon," and "You Better Ask Me," accompanied by Elizabeth Verian.

Guests of the club included Mrs. Charles Sheppard, Miss Bertha Graves, Mrs. Wash Lough, Mrs. Stookey and Mrs. Howard Mace.

Mrs. Edythe Craig co-chairman of the public affairs committee, announced that this year the patients of the Mt. Logan Tuberculosis Sanatorium will receive the gifts of the club. Mrs. June Ramey, announced the need for drivers at the Blood Bank December 3.

Miss Jane Jefferson of the career advancement committee introduced the girls of the month, Ann Meriweather, who wants to be an architect, and Sarah Core, who is interested in languages and political science.

Mrs. Dorothy Hummel announced plans for the Christmas party and has booked Santa Claus for the evening.

Miss Snyder then closed the meeting of the club with the thought—'What we are is God's gift to you, what you become—is your gift to God.'

Two Drivers Fined; Three Forfeit Bail

Three drivers charged with traffic law violations forfeited bonds amounting to $60 when they failed to appear in Municipal Court Wednesday morning.

Two others paid fines amounting to $20.

Ogden P. Crough, 35, Columbus forfeited $20 on a charge of failure to keep assured clear distance.

Lewis Sheets, 37, Dayton, picked up by the state Highway Patrol, forfeited $20 on a charge of crossing the yellow line on Route 35.

Raymond Kiser, 39, Dayton, forfeited $20 bond posted after his arrest for speeding on Route 35.

Eddie Jones, 18, of 553 Albion Ave., was fined $5 and costs for failure to observe a stop sign.

John Howard Varney, 21, of 1221 E. Paint St., drew two fines—one of $5 and costs for excessive noise and another of $10 and costs for travelling 48 mph in a 25 mph zone on Rose Ave. That was a total of $32.40 for both fines and costs. He pleaded not guilty to the speeding charge but was found guilty at the hearing before Judge Max G. Dice.

Another crash occurred at the junction of Leesburg and Highland Aves. at dusk Tuesday. Clinton J. Gilmore, 24, Greenfield Pike, told police he was making a left turn into Highland Ave., and thought the car approaching on Leesburg Ave., would stop, but that it did not. Wallace W. Miller, 43, Frankfort, said he had stopped at Highland Ave., and had started ahead slowly when the car driven by Gilmore swung in front of him.

Shooting from Road Expensive for Hunter

Just shooting at a pheasant from a highway cost Homer Amos, 30, Madeira, $50 plus costs in Municipal Court Wednesday.

He was arrested by Game Protector Dave Krupla who found him shooting from the New Holland-Bloomington Pike.

Krupla and a fellow game protector, Charles Cooper, said that, while there had been few complaints of shooting him pheasants or excessive bag limits, they had been plagued this season with an epidemic of hunters shooting from roads and trespassing.

Tax Duplicate Completed; Bills To Be Prepared

Auditor's Work Finished with One Minor Exception

County Auditor Harry R. Allen has announced that the county's tax duplicate, covering real estate, public utilities and all special assessments, has been completed, given tentative approval by the Ohio Tax Commission and this week was turned over to the county treasurer for collection.

This means, according to Allen, that as soon as the county treasurer's office can prepare all the tax bills, that officials will be ready to begin collection of the 1956 taxes. It means, also, that the full year's complicated work of preparing the duplicate has been finished in November.

The only exception, Allen said, is the Greenview school district which overlaps from Greene County. This is a small section containing only six houses on the western border between Greene and Fayette counties. It has not been included in the duplicate because Greene County has not yet completed its duplicate and it will have to await until the auditor's office in that county is able to make certification of the school tax for that small area to the county auditor's office here. This, however, is not expected to hold up tax collection as the rest of the bills can be prepared first.

HOW SOON the tax bills can be completed and collection opened by the County Treasurer Charles Fabb, is uncertain at this time since Fabb, was out of the city Wednesday and could not be reached for an estimate. There is much work connected with preparing the thousands of individual taxpayers' bills, but every effort is being made, it was said, to rush the work, in the hope of opening collections sometime in December.

The county auditor stated his office was unable to complete the duplicate this year until after the Nov. 6 election because of various levies to be voted including school, health department and the tuberculosis district special issues. The addition of these had to be figured and added to each taxpayer's bill, causing a heavy load of rush work to be done after election.

The personal and classified taxes of the county are not included in this collection. These taxes fall due on Feb. 15, 1957, with taxpayers having the privilege of paying any time before the following March 31.

4-H Club Activities

The Wilson Country Sisters 4-H club met at the Wilson School Tuesday after school, and each girl announced plans for her project for the year.

The girls will assist in showing a TB film at 137 E. Court St. Friday afternoon. Taking part will be Carol King, Betsy Vollette, Carolyn Dill, Nancy Fryer, Susanne Torbert and Rosemary Caplinger. The girls also drew names for a Christmas gift exchange, and assembled their yearbooks.

Refreshments were served by Carolyn Dill and Susanne Torbert. At the next meeting Dec. 16, refreshments will be served by Julia Rankin and Kay Soldan.

Advisors for the group are Mrs. Richard Rankin, Mrs. Frank Dill and the junior advisor is Joyce Lutz.

Utility Seizure

OHIO CONSOLIDATED officials expressed opposition to the proposal. Clare E. Williams, company president, and Sidney Griffith, company attorney, testified at the hearings.

Griffith gave a detailed account of what he said was rock-throwing and cable-cutting incidents that resulted in the company closing exchanges in the Portsmouth area. He blamed lack of law enforcement for the closings.

Police Chief Fred Brown and Mayor Vernal G. Riffe Sr., of New Boston, a Portsmouth suburb, answered subpoenas for testimony. But Portsmouth Police Chief Hugh Rudity refused to answer a subpoena on grounds of ill health.

Rep. Kenneth Robinson (R-Marion), committee chairman, said that the question of a contempt citation against Rudity "is not a dead issue."

In his testimony, Williams said the company would reopen the service if the Ohio National Guard were sent to Portsmouth, though he insisted that the company had not asked for the National Guard and contended that it would not be a prerequisite for the company to reopen the service.

Griffith told the committee that Lausche had said the company should return and restore service—"get hurt first" before the state would move in to help. "We ask no one to guarantee us protection. We want only normal police protection—effective law enforcement," he said.

Griffith asserted that Lausche had promised "no augmentation" of police protection before the company should try again to provide service. "We did that before and we were lucky to get all our people out alive," he declared.

He said the company wanted to restore "full service" and not a limited or emergency service. He said the needs for law and order would be no greater in either case.

Columbus School Head Speaks At Cherry Hill PTA Meeting

The second meeting of the school year was held by the Cherry Hill Parent-Teacher Assn. Tuesday night.

The president, Mrs. Hugh Payton conducted the business meeting.

Walter Rettig of the program committee, introduced Dr. Harold E. Eibling, superintendent of Columbus schools, as speaker of the evening.

Dr. Eibling told of his experiences while he was associated with the state board of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers, and pointed out the importance of parents and teachers working hand in hand for better education. Many times school officials must call on parents to help in school problems, he added.

Dr. Eibling talked of the "gratifying side" of work in the field of education and brought out that parents and teachers alike see a need for better education for future generations because of the many problems they will face in a complex world. In closing, he said a teacher strives to give his pupils a better understanding of the world in which they live.

DWIGHT COFFMAN gave the secretary's report and the treasurer, Mrs. William Heinz gave a report of monies on hand.

Mrs. Payton gave highlights of a letter from Superintendent Smith in which he thanked those who worked for the school bond issue. Mrs. Robert Lisk of the Ways and Means Committee reported that students are selling candy for Christmas as in past years.

Earl Miller's sixth grade room won the attendance banner. Refreshments were served from a table covered with a Christmas cloth by Mr. and Mrs. Dean Powell, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hinchee and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Willis.

Griffith gave a detailed account of what he said was rock-throwing and cable-cutting incidents that resulted in the company closing exchanges in the Portsmouth area. He blamed lack of law enforcement for the closings.

Police Chief Fred Brown and Mayor Vernal G. Riffe Sr., of New Boston, a Portsmouth suburb, answered subpoenas for testimony. But Portsmouth Police Chief Hugh Rudity refused to answer a subpoena on grounds of ill health.

Rep. Kenneth Robinson (R-Marion), committee chairman, said that the question of a contempt citation against Rudity "is not a dead issue."

In his testimony, Williams said the company would reopen the service if the Ohio National Guard were sent to Portsmouth, though he insisted that the company had not asked for the National Guard and contended that it would not be a prerequisite for the company to reopen the service.

Griffith told the committee that Lausche had said the company should return and restore service—"get hurt first" before the state would move in to help. "We ask no one to guarantee us protection. We want only normal police protection—effective law enforcement," he said.

Griffith asserted that Lausche had promised "no augmentation" of police protection before the company should try again to provide service. "We did that before and we were lucky to get all our people out alive," he declared.

He said the company wanted to restore "full service" and not a limited or emergency service. He said the needs for law and order would be no greater in either case.

Columbus School Head Speaks At Cherry Hill PTA Meeting

The second meeting of the school year was held by the Cherry Hill Parent-Teacher Assn. Tuesday night.

The president, Mrs. Hugh Payton conducted the business meeting.

Walter Rettig of the program committee, introduced Dr. Harold E. Eibling, superintendent of Columbus schools, as speaker of the evening.

Dr. Eibling told of his experiences while he was associated with the state board of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers, and pointed out the importance of parents and teachers working hand in hand for better education. Many times school officials must call on parents to help in school problems, he added.

Dr. Eibling talked of the "gratifying side" of work in the field of education and brought out that parents and teachers alike see a need for better education for future generations because of the many problems they will face in a complex world. In closing, he said a teacher strives to give his pupils a better understanding of the world in which they live.

DWIGHT COFFMAN gave the secretary's report and the treasurer, Mrs. William Heinz gave a report of monies on hand.

Mrs. Payton gave highlights of a letter from Superintendent Smith in which he thanked those who worked for the school bond issue. Mrs. Robert Lisk of the Ways and Means Committee reported that students are selling candy for Christmas as in past years.

Earl Miller's sixth grade room won the attendance banner.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a Christmas cloth by Mr. and Mrs. Dean Powell, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hinchee and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Willis.

Friend on Crashed Plane, Heers Learn

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Heer, proprietors of Steen's Department Store here, have learned that one of their friends in the business world was among the passengers on the ill-fated IAL plane which crashed shortly after the take-off from Orly Field, Paris, last Saturday en route to New York.

She was Mrs. Elizabeth Greenberg Frankel, known in professional life as Betty Green. She was vice president and fashion accelerator for Independent Retailers Syndicate and had been attending a Fair at Turin, Italy, where Italian manufacturers of apparel and accessories exhibited their lines.

Heer said that through the store's buying connection with IRS, he and Mrs. Heer had become well acquainted with Mrs. Frankel through the years.

The practice of dyeing finger nails began some 5,000 years ago.
